Republican League of the State of Pennsylvania.

The Seventh Annual Convention of the Republican League of the State of Pennsylvania, to elect officers, and transact such other business as may be necessary, will be held in the Opera House, Harrisburg, Pa., on Wednesday, September 5th, 1894, at 10 o'clock, a. m.

All clubs should, as soon as possible, elect three delegates and three alternates, and certify their names and P. O. addresses to these headquarters. The annual dues, if not already paid, should be sent to the Treasurer at once; as August 27th is the last day they can be paid to entitle clubs to representation in the Convention.

The Republican clubs of Harrisburg, and the Local Reception Committee, are making extensive and generous preparations for the entertainment of the delegates and friends. Delegates and Alternates must report on arrival, at the Headquarters, The Lochiel Harrisburg Pa. Low rates for transportation have been applied for, and full and further particulars will be sent when credentials are forwarded.

A Mass Meeting will be held in the Opera House on the evening of September 5th, at which Speakers of National Officers of the League, and the State Candidates will be present, and address the delegates and the young Republicans present.

This Convention will be the opening gun of the Gubernatorial Campaign. Let every club be represented, and all young Republicans unite to manifest to the country Pennsylvania's steadfast adherence to Republican principles, and her deep detestation of the Democratic Administration and Congress, which has for many months labored to destroy our most valued industries; depreciate the reward of the wage-earner; bring chaos to our financial and commercial institutions, and make that wealth and prosperity, which was the chief glory of the Nation under the Republican rule, a remote and forgotten tradition.

Further information will be promptly furnished by addressing these headquarters. Do not forget the election of Delegates and Alternates, and the payment of dues to the Treasurer before the 27th inst.

Very Respectfully,
JOHN B. ROBINSON, President.

Rev. Charles T. Steck.

There has been a general desire in Shamokin and other parts of Northumberland county to place Rev. Charles T. Steck in nomination for the legislature on the Democratic ticket, but the gentleman in question has hesitated about entering the contest. When seen by a Dispatch reporter yesterday, however and asked as to whether he would be a candidate or not, Mr. Steck replied:

"Yes, I have decided to enter the race and if nominated will use all legitimate means to secure the election. I was not inclined to be a candidate for any political office, but will accept the nomination if tendered by the majority of the representatives of my party at the approaching convention in such a manner as to show that my services are really desired by the people of this district."

Rev. Charles T. Steck would make a strong candidate and able representative, as he embraces both popularity and ability.

Governor Pattison has made his preparations for a gay and brilliant march from Harrisburg to the National Guard encampment at Gettysburg the last of this week. It is intended to do the journey on horseback, with his heroic and handsome staff to help along and the Governor's Troop as an escort to see that no flies get on the procession. His Excellency will ride out at the head of this war-like array at 5 o'clock in the morning, and will keep going for eighteen miles to Boiling Spring, where the army will halt for a considerable and much needed rest. Later in the afternoon it will resume the march and cover the distance of four miles to Mount Holly in time for a dance, where the members of the staff will be on exhibition for the benefit of the ladies. On Saturday such as do not by that time prefer to take the cars will ride from Mount Holly to Gettysburg and enter the camp as conquering heroes. It is for this that the Governor has been keeping the Guard out of the disorderly sections of the State as much as possible.

A Most Attractive Summer Outing by the Pennsylvania Railroad—A Tour Among the Lakes and Islands of the North.

The party composing the Pennsylvania Railroad's first tour to the North has just returned home, delighted not only with the general attractiveness of the trip, but the admirable manner in which it was conducted. The second party is now forming, and will go out under like conditions on August 21st, reaching home on return trip September 3d. The party will leave Philadelphia in special Pullman parlor cars over the picturesque route of the Pennsylvania to Watkins Glenn, thence to Niagara Falls, the Thousand Islands, the Rapids of the St. Lawrence, Montreal, Au Sable Chasm, Lakes Champlain and George, Saratoga, and lastly, a delightful trip down the Hudson.

Ample time is allowed at each point for sight-seeing, and all the traveling is done by daylight. It would be a difficult matter to plan a trip of greater diversity of interest and attraction, and for those whose summer vacation is limited there is no outing comparable to it. The round-trip rate, including all necessary expenses, from New York, Philadelphia, Newark, Trenton, Baltimore, and Washington, is $90.00. Tickets will also be sold from other stations at proportionate rates. Tourist Agent and Chaperon will conduct the party.

For tickets, descriptive itineraries, and reservation of seats on the train, address Tourist Agent, Pennsylvania Railroad Company, Broad Street Station, Philadelphia.

Foster's Latest Bulletin.

My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm wave to cross the continent from Aug 4 to 8, and the next will reach the Pacific coast about the 9th, cross the western mountains by close of 10th, the great central valleys from 11th to 13th, and the eastern states about the 14th. While a general deficiency of rain is expected in August, this storm wave and the one following will give a few showers of small extent. During drouth periods the storm waves cross the country so far north that their effects are only seen in the high temperature waves. The warm wave will cross the western mountains about the 9th, the great central valleys about the 11th and the eastern states about the 13th. The cool wave will cross the western mountains about the 12th, the great central valleys about the 14th and the eastern states about the 16th. The drouth will do most damage during the first and last weeks in August, and more rain will fall during the ten days, 11th to 20th, inclusive.

Nomination Certificates.

Chairman Gilkeson, of the Republican State Committee, has raised the question that the certificates of nomination on file in the office of the secretary of the commonwealth, of candidates to be voted for in November, which have been sworn to before a prothonotary, are not valid for the reason that such officer is not qualified to administer oaths except in matters pertaining to the discharge of their official duties. There are quite a number of these certificates on file in the department, and it is likely that a stated case will be taken into the courts of Dauphin county on the return of Secretary Harrity for an opinion on the objection raised by Colonel Gilkinson.

Less Than Half Rates to Colorado.

On August 10th and 11th the North-Western Line will sell excursion tickets to Denver, Pueblo and Colorado Springs and return at exceedingly low rates; tickets good for return passage until September 13th, inclusive. Solid Vestibuled Trains, Palace Sleeping Cars and Superb Dining Cars through between Chicago and Denver daily, via the Chicago & North-Western R'y. For detailed information apply to agents of connecting lines or address W. A. Thrall, General Passenger and Ticket agent Chicago.

—About eleven o'clock Wednesday the residence of Samuel Noll, Jr., of Pleasant Gap, took fire and the one end of it was burned out before the flames could be subdued. The loss is about one hundred dollars on which there was no insurance.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, August 6, 1894.
From Our Regular Correspondent.)

The Democratic distraction over the tariff bill is still as great as ever. There is lots of talk every day about an agreement to-morrow, but, like tomorrow, the agreement never comes. Just when a new sugar schedule—new in words, but the same in principle as that prepared by democratic Senators and Secretary Carlisle under the direction of the sugar trust—which was to be used to blind the ignorant followers of Mr. Cleveland and the House free traders to their surrender to the Senate and the trust, which its acceptance meant, had been patched up at the White House and the end seemed in sight, when the Land Senators, reinforced by the populists, Allen and Kyle, bobbed up with the statement that no sugar schedule would be supported by them which did not provide for the payment of the sugar bounty for this year. That sent the conference to sea again and they are still floundering around at this writing, drifting nearer and nearer to the breakers on the rocky coast all the while. How they will get out, or whether they will get out at all, is still problematical. It is certain, however, that the republicans will not volunteer as life savers.

Boss Cleveland has succeeded in preventing the House committee on Foreign Affairs reporting the Boutelle resolution for the immediate recognition of the Hawaiian Republic, although it was word for word the same resolution introduced by the present democratic chairman of that committee, when the Brazilian Republic was established, during the Harrison administration, and when a majority of the committee and of the House was republican. But at least one democrat on the committee—Geary, of Cal.,—was ashamed of his party and had the manliness to speak his mind. He said: "We might as well admit that the democratic party has bludadered in its treatment of this Hawaiian question; and we cannot afford to make another blunder." The democrats 'beat the devil around the stump" by postponing the consideration of the resolution until next Thursday, hoping that it will then be too late to have it acted on at this session. In view of this action by the committee at Mr. Cleveland's dictation it is not surprising that the members of the Hawaiian commission now in Washington, who represent the ex-queen, should say that they intend to remain until informed by Mr. Cleveland whether he intends to carry out his promise to restore the queen to her throne. They naturally think that Mr. Cleveland still wishes to restore the queen, and other people think so, too. Why else should he wish to postpone recognizing the republic?

The G. A. R. men have sent a formal protest to Mr. Cleveland and are preparing to bring to the attention of the coming National encampment at Pittsburg the unjust treatment the old soldiers have received from the Cleveland administration. Out of 150 employees dropped from the rolls of the Record and Pension division of the War department 71 were Union veterans, and it is said that the records of some of the ex-soldiers show them to have been among the most efficient clerks in the division, while none of them were below the average in their efficiency records. Old soldiers have also been discriminated against in other departments, particularly in the Agricultural department and in the various branches of the Interior department, including the Government Printing office and the pension Bureau.

There is more or less anxiety in Congress because of the war between Japan and China. This is not because of any special interest taken in the war as it now is, but because of the fear that the United States may be in some manner dragged into it by the diplomatic blundering of Secretary Gresham, who appears to have, in place of the calm judgment that should dominate a Secretary of State, an over supply of the very undesirable faculty which makes him "put his foot in it" every time he makes a move in connection with the foreign relations of the government.

Representative Stone, of Pennsylvania, is not discouraged by the opposition of the administration to his bill requiring all immigrants to be examined and certified by U. S. consuls, which recently passed the House, and which the Senate committee on Immigration has tried to kill by reporting a substitute there for which might easily have been added to the bill as an amendment. He says: "I can see no ground for objections except from steamship companies that are engaged in the unholy traffic of transporting to this country criminals and paupers. I had hoped that this measure would be considered from a patriotic standpoint alone and would not be made a party measure, as the opposition from the administration gives me cause to fear it will be. The people, without regard to party, demand a further restriction upon immigration; it will come, if not now, in the near future. For one, I propose to keep this standard to the front as long as I remain in Congress, and I believe all patriotic people will respond. The objection that inspection by consuls will interfere with the present laws is ridiculous. The measure will save expense to the government by utilizing these consuls instead of adding expense. This objection seems to be a mere pretext and will not weigh with men of intelligence."

Reduced Rates via Pennsylvania Railroad for Mount Gretna Farmer's Encampment.

From August 20th to 25th, inclusive, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell, for the above occasion, round trip tickets to Mount Gretna and return at rate of one fare for the round trip, from principal stations between East Liberty and Bryn Mawr, on the Northern Central Railway north of and including Lutherville, and on the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad Division. These tickets will be valid for return passage until August 25th, inclusive.

Golf—Goff.

You spell it golf and you pronounce it goff. The game and maybe the pronunciation are Scotch, but the transmogrification of that f into an l seems peculiarly English, peculiarly characteristic of the haughty lowlanders, who take their pleasures and their word sadly. No American can watch an Englishman trip in the middle of a word and fall and squash its final syllables out of all resemblance to human speech without emotion; and it is partly on account of its name that golf has so worked upon us.

Golf is a queer game. In the first place it is the only game of Saxon or Celtic origin in which hired help is tolerated, in which all the exertion is not assumed by the enthusiastic sportsman himself. As the players walk over the links their variously turned and armored sticks are carried for them by a caddie. Such is their attendant's name. They make their own strokes, but the caddie carries the weapon. And secondly, it is the only game of ball in the world that is specifically calculated for an irregular surface, and does not best delay its devotees' skill when the ground is the most as an ironing board. And thirdly, it is the most idiotic-looking game, bar none, of the whole rodeo.

Yet it is coming, with its whole new out fit of toggery, nomenclature and apparatus—coming to stay. It is reported by its devotees that it is a game of rare allure, that it demands exceeding skill and repays with the serenest satisfaction, and that to be ignorant of it is to prepare for one's self the most sorrowful old age. It is true that wherever there is room enough it is being played by those who know how to lay out links and count the simple score and it is said that, granted the links, it is a poor man's game just as well as a rich man's. And this may be so; at any rate it won't hurt the poor man to inquire into the matter.

The poor man will have two advantages in golf. If he can find room to make links for himself with holes and tees he need neither wear knickerbockers and short gaiters nor provide himself with other implements than a single driving stick. And he will find in it an absorbing occupation, that is, if one may judge by the infatuation of its present devotees. Perhaps seme day the Park may become one vast golfing ground. Still if it does we may be sure the poor man, who is averse to frills, will call it golf.

He Is A Baronet.

It will be remembered that last spring there passed through this section of the state, stopping a night at the Brockerhoff House, Bellefonte, a man who gave his name as Vivian Gray. He walked from Boston to Monterey, Mex, on a wager, agreeing to cover the distance in a certain time without spending a cent of his own money. He represented himself as a newspaper man and admitted that the name given was assumed, remarking, in this connection, that if he was to reveal his identity he would have no trouble in getting through.

A telegram to the New York Press of Friday from Columbus, O., says that now, since Mr. Gray is on the return trip, he no longer conceals his identity, and that he is found to be an Englishman, Sir Henry Wilmot, baronet, V. C. K. C. B. The latter initials stand for Victor Cross, Knight Commander of the Bath. His address is Chaddenden Hall, Derbyshire, England. He gained the honor of Victory Cross while with Lord Wolseley is one of his campaigns, not as a soldier, but as a newspaper correspondent.

What do you take medicine for? Because you are sick and want to get well, of course. Then remember, Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures.

BECAME PANIC STRICKEN.

Many Spectators at a Ball Game in Chicago Were Injured.

Chicago, August 5.—Time was called in the seventh inning at Chicago-Cincinnati base ball game this afternoon at the West side park by the cry of fire, followed by scenes never before witnessed at a sporting event in this city. Curiosity to see the fire led more than a thousand spectators to rush into danger and in their frantic efforts to extricate themselves from their perilous positions they became panic-stricken.

They found themselves hemmed in by fire on one side and by a high barbed wire fence on the other, erected to keep the people from encroaching on the diamond The exits were few and small, and although other means of escape were provided by the quick action of Players Ryan and Wilmont of the local team, and President Hart, the imperiled and fear crazed crowd bucked against the barbed wire fencing. Their mad rush to get away from the advancing flames resulted in the injury of scores. Anson was showing the visitors how to hit the ball in seventh inning, when a red light began to flash and rise along the side stand, where the fifty cent spectators sit. There were 1,600 of them in seats and 9,000 witnessed the game altogether. The breaking out of the fire caused a general rush of the people in that part of the grounds to the top of the stand to look at the flames. In a few minutes they realized the dangor of their position and broke for the narrow exit which had already filled with smoke. The spectators who were in the grand stand and on the bleachers who were at a safe distance from the fire and got away into the field without any mishap. The woodwork of the stand with the piles of paper and other rubbish thrown around provided fuel for the flames which gained on the imprisoned men and women before they knew it. All was confusion in an instant among the occupants of the flaming wooden structure. Women screamed in their fright and men got jammed against the sharp fences. The exits might as well have not been there. Hands, faces, limbs and clothing were cut and torn by the scrambling mass of humanity in trying to force a passage through the wire stands or over them. The fence would not give way, but Ryan and Wilmot made a gap in it using their bats like blacksmiths. Hundreds escaped that way. Five minutes after the last spectators got out of reach of flames, every seat was being consumed. The grounds will be used to morrow by fencing off the burning portion. The property of the club was damaged to the amount of $15,000 before the fire department extinguished the flames. A cigar stub thrown among rubbish started the fire.

Firing Timber Lands.

A subscriber writes us to publish the law on firing timber lands. We quote from the laws of Pennsylvania of the session of 1887, section 3 as follows:

Section 3. Any person or persons who shall willfully or carelessly cut bark from or otherwise cut, burn, or injure any tree, plant, shrub or sprout planted or growing or being on any land of this commonwealth, without the consent of the owners thereof, first had and obtained, or who, without such consent, shall kindle, or cause to be kindled, a fire on any forest or timber land in this commonwealth, or who shall carry into or over any forest or timber land any lighted candle, lamp or torch, or other fire without having the same secured in a lantern or other closed vessel, or who shall discharge or set off fireworks of any kind on said land or among the trees thereon, or shall willfully or carelessly burn or fire upon his or their own land, or that of others, any tree, brush, stubble or other combustible material, whereby fire shall be communicated to the leaves, brush or timber upon any forest or timber lands belonging to other parties, shall be subject to a penalty of fifty dollars for each offence committed, with cost of suit, one-half to go to the party or parties injured, and the other half to the school fund of the district in which said offence was committed.

Provided, That if the defendant or defendants neglect or refuse to pay at once the penalty imposed and costs, or shall not enter sufficient bail for the payment of the same within ten days, he or they shall be committed to the common jail of said county for a period not less than one day for each dollar of the penalty imposed: And provided, When the penalty imposed is above five dollars, the defendant or defendants may enter into a recognizance, with good security to answer said complaint on a charge of misdemeanor, before the Court of Quarter sessions of the peace of the county, in which the offence is committed, which court, on conviction of the defendant or the defendants of the offence so charged and failure to pay the penalty imposed by this act, with costs, shall commit said defendant or defendants to the common jail of the county for a period of not less than one day for each dollar or penalty imposed.—Tyrone Herald.

The Guard Encampment.

At the close of the present week the Pennsylvania National Guard will be in encampment at Gettysburg, the whole division being together in that way for the first time under the present administration. Every possible preparation has been made to make the event one of unusual interest.

Something has been sacrificed to sentiment in the selection of the place of encampment, for while Gettysburg has some things to commend it no one can claim that it has any advantages as a camp ground over Mount Gretna, and it must be recognized that the latter in many important particulars is very much superior. But there is an association about Gettysburg which is expected to add to the spirit of the camp, and, what has probably been still more considered, it is likely to attract a very much larger crowd of visitors than could be expected at Mount Gretna. It unfortunately, also, offers the boys more facilities for breaking away from the restraints of the camp, such facilities being near at hand.

It is to be regretted that for the first time in many years in an encampment of the whole division of the guard there will be no participation of troops from the regular army. This is no fault of the National Guard authorities. The Adjutant General and all concerned have done their utmost to secure details from different arms of the service, as has been done heretofore, and they have failed only because of the recent disturbance in the West, which brought into active service so many of the United States troops, and it is not now possible to assign any of them to the purpose desired. It is a feature that will be much missed, for there can be no doubt of the advantages to the guard of even a brief camp association with the professional soldier, and it has generally been a pretty good thing for the regular organizations participating.

These drawbacks, however, while they will be felt will not affect the success of the camp. There will be none the less a great show to those who look upon it in that light, and to the participants a ceaseless round of duty. To the enlisted man it means eight days of hard work, whether in guard duty, at drill, or on parade, for from sunrise to sunset there is always work to do that cannot be shirked outside the hospital. This camp life for a few days each Summer is an essential supplement to the work that is done in the armories at other seasons of the year. It familiarizes the men with the practical matters of actual service in the field, and its value has been many times proven in the conduct of the National Guard in this State.

It has been the custom to hold the division encampments every third year, the encampment being by brigades and regiments on the other years. There is a very strong feeling in favor of more frequent division encampments, the impression being that serve the better purpose in bringing the various organization together, and accustoming them to harmonious work. It may be that some change in this respect will be made in the early future.

Coughs Up a Piece of Pipe.

On the 23rd of February last, an accident occurred at Long Siding at this place, caused by a cabin car running into a draft of cars. The cabin car was crushed and William Smeath was killed. S. D. Worley, another member of the crew, was badly cut in the face, and was taken to his home on Moore street, near Sixth. Since that time Mr. Worley has been a sufferer from a pain in his left lung, and it was feared that he was afflicted with consumption. On Friday he was attacked with a violent fit of coughing and was not relieved until he coughed up the bone mouthpiece of a smoking pipe, which is three-fourths of an inch long and half an inch wide.

It was found that this was the cause of his suffering. He had been smoking at the time of the accident, and the stem of the pipe had been broken off by the jar, the mouthpiece going down his throat and lodging in his lung. He is greatly relieved since he coughed up the piece of pipe, and is able to sleep, which he could not do since the accident occurred, over five months ago.—Huntingdon News.

—About the only thing done at the meeting of the Bellefonte Board of Trade Tuesday evening was the advertising of Prof. I. N. Mauser's prospective book, showing up the location of the new Central railroad, as well as the towns all along the route and the advantages, industries and resources of Bellefonte. No attempt was made to elect new officers for the ensuing year.

THE SUGAR DISSOLVED.

Senate's Special Committee Cannot Find a Trace of the Sweets.

Washington, August 2.—The special committee appointed by the senate to investigate the alleged sugar scandal has made a report, which is signed by every member of the committee. The report exonerates Mr. Camden, and says there is no testimony tending to show that the supposed order was ever executed by any firm, or that any sugar has been bought or sold by or for Senator Camden at any time during the present session of congress. The committee says it has been unable to find any evidence tending to show that the sugar schedule was made up in consideration of any sum of money paid for campaign purposes of the democratic party.

It is also stated that the testimony showed that the charge that President Cleveland had an interview with one of the Havenmeyers on E. C. Benedict's yacht in regard to the sugar interests was untrue. There is no evidence, says the report, to support the allegations that members of the trust used other than proper arguments with senators whom they saw with reference to the sugar schedule, nor tending to show improper conduct on the part of those engaged in framing it. Occasion is taken by the committee, however, to deprecate the importunity and pressure to which congress and its members are subjected by the representatives of the great industrial combinations whose enormous wealth tends to suggest undue influence and to create in the public mind a demoralizing belief in the existence of corrupt practices.

The committee prefaces its views with an extract from the article in the Philadelphia Press, signed "Holland," in which it is alleged that Secretary Carlisle, democratic senators and sugar trust officers arranged the sugar schedule end of it. The report says that the committee summoned E. J. Edwards ("Holland"), the author of the article, and that he testified that he had no personal knowledge of the statements made, but had published them on the authority of an informant whose name he declined to give. The committee then proceeded to examine "the only parties other than the alleged informant who could have knowledge on the subject, viz: Secretary Carlisle and all the democratic members of the finance committee." Their sworn statements accompany the report, says the committee, and justify the conclusion that the statements made in the paragraphs quoted are without foundation in fact and utterly untrue. It is added Mr. Edwards's conduct in making the charge upon no personal knowledge and upon information, the source of which he would not disclose, calls for the serious reprobation of the senate."

The report further says: "Whether any senator has been or is speculating in what are known as sugar stocks during the consideration of the tariff bill now before the senate was the subject of investigation. That in response to a request of the committee a sworn statement of each senator was taken. By these statements it appears that two senators, Hon. John R. McPherson, of New Jersey and Hon. Matthew S. Quay, of Pennsylvania, have held and sold sugar certificates during the pendency of the present tariff bill. Their testimony further shows that before the voting on the bill began each had entirely closed out his holdings."

Dug His Own Grave.

Arlington, Mass., August 2.—Late last night the superintendent of a Catholic cemetery, near the Cambridge line discovered a new-made mound of earth in an authorized place. Upon investigestion he found a shallow hole with a man lying in it in an unconscious state. A boquet of flowers lay upon his breast and a half filled bottle of laudanum lay beside him. He was alive, and after three hours' hard work was restored to consciousness.

It was ascertained that his name is Edward Walker, 27 years of age, living on Brattle street Cambridge. He has been considered a young man of much promise, and has shown marked ability as a designer of humorous pictures for the illustrated papers. About two years ago he was dangerously ill from typhoid fever. While he was recovering from this attack his intended wife died. The news was broken to him before he had recovered his strength and it is thought his mind has not been right since that time. Walker dug the grave himself.

Patton Miners Resume.

Dubois, Pa., August 2,—All the miners at Patton resumed work today except at the Reilly colliery, at 40 cents per gross ton. A meeting was held at Carroltown last night which was largely attended by the miners of Patton, Hastings, Spangler and Barnesbnro, at which it was decided to stand firm for the 45 cent scale. Lingler's miners made the first break Wednesday with about half the old men, and today Flanigan Run, Mercer Creek and Ashcroft colleries resumed operations with nearly all their old men. The Reilly miners expect to start work this week. The strike is partically broken in this district.

AcWoman Arrested.

Conway, Mass., Aug. 2.—Mrs. Susan J. Taylor, of Walpole, is under arrest, charged with attempted incendiarism. The insurance companies allege there have been within a few years no less than 26 fires in property owned by the family of which Mrs. Taylor is a member. A little more than a year ago George and Brice McDowell, brothers of Mrs. Taylor, came here and bought a grist mill. Some time after a barn they owned burned and $350 insurance was paid. This fire, McDowells claim was caused by the carelessness of an employe.

Last January the grist mill was destroyed by fire with its contents. The building was insured for $1,500 and the stock for $2,500. George McDowell admits that this fire was of incendiary origin, but declares he has no idea who set it. The insurance companies refuse to pay in this case and the McDowells will bring suit.

Mrs. Mary E. Griggs, a sister of Mrs. Taylor, lived here until recently, in a house owned by Tucker & Cook. The building and its contents were destroyed by fire.

In March, 1893, the house in which three sisters and two brothers of the McDowell family lived at Dorchester was burned. They all held insurance policies ranging from $150 to $1,500 and the five received in settlement $1,576. They then moved to Walpole and in the following August the house in which they lived there was destroyed and the insurance, amounting to $1,200 paid. George McDowell, the police assert, formerly resided in New York, and there collected insurance on three fires, $1,400 on a dwelling, $3,300 on a wheelwright shop and $2,300 on a second dwelling.

Mrs. McDowell has been released on $1,000 bail, furnished by her brother, Brice McDowell.

Postoffice Robbery.

Scranton, Aug. 5.—One of the biggest posoffice robberies that ever occurred in this state was quietly executed here Thursday night, when $8,300 were stolen. The theft was not discovered until Friday afternoon, and the officials kept it a secret for another day. The robbers secured access to the vault by knowing the combination, and once getting in, they used an iron bar in prying open the receptacles which contained the packages of stamps. Thieves took with them stamps as follows: 300,000 twos, 50,000 ones, 30,000 threes, 10,000 fours and 10,000 fives, making the total above named.

The vault opens into Postmaster Vandling's rooms, and it was not opened until Friday afternoon. Then Assistant Postmaster Osthaus went to the vault to secure stamps necessary for filling the requisition of a postmaster in one of the near towns.

It is a mystery how the thieves entered the building. All the doors connecting the postmaster's room with the corridor was found locked, as they had been left the evening before. The department was notified and secret service detectives are now at work.

Broad Top Coal Shipments.

Coal shipments over the Huntingdon and Broad Top Railroad continue very heavy, the aggregate for last week being 71,477 tons, or only 5,167 tons less than in the preceding week, when the movement was the heaviest in the history of the company. As compared with the same week last year, last week's shipments show an increase of 10,267 tons, both regions contributing to the increase. For the year to date there have been shipped 185,974 tons of Broad Top coal, while 799,000 tons came from the Cumberland region as against 1,233,344 tons for the same period last year. The decrease is therefore only 267,827 tons. A month ago the decrease up to that time amounted to no less than 350,000 tons. Both the Broad Top and Cumberland regions are benefitted by the continuance of the strike in certain districts in Central Pennsylvania. The operators still firmly maintain their original offer of 40 cents per ton gross, while the miners ask for 45.

Whitto be Married.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Myers, of Centre Hall have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter Mary Susanna, to J. Whitney McCormick, of Charlestown, South Carolina, on Thursday evening August 9th, at eight o'clock. Mr. McCormick is very well known here having conducted an undertaking establishment for several years. When he sold out and went south.

Firm of Taylor & McCoy Dissolved.

The firm of Taylor & McCoy, of Gallitzin, Pa., and of Baltimore, Md., has been dissolved. John H. Taylor will sign the firm's name in liquidation. The business heretofore conducted by said firm will be continued by the Taylor McCoy Coal and Coke company, of Gallitzin, a corporation formed under the laws of Pennsylvania.

—There were two private picnic parties at Hunter's Park on Friday. The one which went up in the morning was gotten up by Miss Hannah Hamilton, and the other going up in the evening by Miss May Martin. The time in the evening was put in with dancing, and the the young folks enjoyed themselves immensely.

WHAT A TACK DID.

It Started a Big Blaze in Philadelphia Last Evening.

Philadelphia, August 2.—A tack dropping in a picker machine caused a $70,000 fire this evening in the four story mill at Randolph and Jefferson streets occupied by McClockey & O'Hara, carpet cleaning works, and John A. Cronin & Co., yarn spinners, and two firemen were killed and seven injured by a falling floor. The firemen killed were George Geissell, hoseman and George W. Dickell, truckman. The injured firemen were Joseph Burus, Martin Casey, Wm. Cappint, John Kelley, Wm. Lumpf, James McCarry and Samuel Cook, foreman. None of those injured will die, but they have all serious bruises and contusions.

About 4.45 o'clock a tack dropped into a picker machine at which an operative of Cronin & Co. was at work on the third floor, and the sparks flying amid the inflammable yarn, quickly created a blaze that rapidly spread through the room. There were about forty men and women at work and for a few moments there was imminent danger of even a more terrible catastrophe than the one that followed later. Three women fainted and were carried from the building from which every one succeeded in escaping.

The firemen promptly responded to the call, and after about an hour's work extinguished the fire. While eleven of the firemen were on the third floor playing on the bales of wool to extinguish any sparks that might be among them, the charred joists gave way and the floor went through to the cellar, carrying with it nine of the men. Geissel and Dickell were instantly killed and all the others badly bruised and cut by the mass of debris that fell upon them. The injured firemen were quickly gotten out and removed to a hospital and none of them are expected to die from their hurts.

The $70,000 loss occasioned by the fire is divided as follows: James S. Cochran & Bros., owners of the building, $24,000, fully insured; Cronin & Co., $30,000 on stock and $15,000 on machinery; McClockey & O'Hara, $5,000 on stocks. The tenant's loss is partly covered by insurance.

Playing With Fire.

A year ago at this time banks were failing by the dozen a day for two reasons—the trade and manufactures of the country were disorganized by tariff agitation and doubt was thrown on the stability of the currency of Secretary Carlisle's failure to maintain the gold reserve.

The free trade agitation still continues and in iron, cotton, woolen, building and most of the great industries two-thirds time and product is the rule. In Massachusetts the past two weeks has seen 1,000,000 spindles stopped, and in all trades and all manufacture the lowest price for thirty-five years and the smallest product for ten years is the rule.

Credit can, however, stand this by due precaution if the currency is stable, and Secretary Carlisle is once more bringing that into doubt. July closed with a gold reserve of $55,550,768. This is about one-half the lawful reserve, it is one-third the wise reserve, and it is one-fourth the reserve when the currency supported by this reserve was only two-thirds its present size.

Secretary Carlisle undoubtedly hopes for a large increase of revenue and gold exports when the Wilson tariff bill passes or fails and the crops begin to move. Unfortunately, the anticipation of the whisky tax and the low range of prices render a low revenue likely for at least three months to come and in 1878, under like circumstances, while our copy exports are large, gold was not imported in large quantities.

In other words, to avoid selling bonds, a sure resource Secretary Carlisle is trusting to a chapter of accidents. Let some disaster come, like a great railroad or corporation failure, let a run begin and even the sale of bonds will not save the country from panic and a drop to silver values, with all its results.

We have no desire to exaggerate the danger, but it is a time for plain speaking. If Secretary Carlisle had heeded like advice in June, 1893, he would have saved the credit panic of last year. He is risking the like crash now by his procrastinating policy.

Burning Accident.

DuBois Express: A few days ago two boys, aged 14 and 16, the former the son of a man named Davis, and we were unable to learn the name of the other boy, went into the mines and filled their pails and pockets with powder and went below the tipple, where they scattered the powder in their pails along the iron rails and ignited it at both ends. The flash set fire to their clothes and the powder in their pockets exploding burned them terribly. They ran and jumped into the water near by, but too late to save their lives. The Davis boy lingered until the next morning, when death ended his suffering. The other boy was still living at last reports, but there are no hopes for his recovery, as he is burned inwardly.

—Hiram Maxim, it has for some time been known by those who watch aeronautics, has made a machine based on the principle of the aeroplane, by which it was clearly possible to mount from the earth and fly. Experiment with the machine in miniature has proved that it had solved the problem of rising from the ground and going through the air. Serious doubt existed, however, as to stopping or directing the machine after it was started. It might go up straight and then topple and fall. It might dive into the ground and smash. It might take any angle between a perpendicular up and down. With this doubt there has been grave questions about mounting it. Trial on a railroad, along which the new machine, with its gigantic planes, flew on a level, has added to a knowledge of the way in which it can be directed, and the flight of Mr. Maxim on Friday for 500 feet, a little over a city block, is a great step forward. Judging from the progress for five years past, five years more will see a practicable and ten or fifteen years a profitable flying machine.

—Moses Robinson, formerly of Tyrone, now a prominent business man at Galena, Cheroke county, Kansas, writes us: We are having the best of good old Democratic times here. Wheat 40c per bushel, and most things in proportion except corn, which is 50c retail. Zinc ore that was $12 per ton. Lead was $30 per m, now $1.50. Even at the low prices there is nothing doing and but little for laboring men to do, and the Pop's are trying to elect their men to misrule Kansas again This latter we can help, and we will try hard to prevent them from doing so.

—The heirs of the late Rev. Wm. Holtappel, of Hollidaysburg, on Thursday sued St. Mary's Catholic church of Altoona for $10,000, loaned the congregation by Holtappel when he was pastor of the church, some years ago, to build parochial schools. The church is not incoporated, and individual suits were brought against the 2,200 members of the congregation.

—Do not get the idea into your tender brainlet, my son, that it is the sign of a heart and a kind disposition to spend your substance setting 'em up to the boys. It is a simple sign that you are vain and silly and want to make a show of yourself. Economy, when not carried to the point of meanness, is a virture. Save that you may be able to speak worthily.

—We are informed that Mrs Harry Keller has lately purchased the property of Mr. J. C. Harper, on East Linn street. It is the intention to make some decided and extensive improvements on the place and then occupy it as their own future place of residence.

THE BIG STRIKE OFF.

13,000 Miners Will Resume Work on Tuesday Morning.

A United Press telegram from Philipsburg says: "The long strike is over. Late Saturday night the miner's convention voted to declare the strike off and work will be resumed in most of the mines on Tuesday morning at the terms first announced by the operators—40 cents a ton. The vote stood 137 in favor of declaring the strike off to 96 against. Thirteen thousand miners were represented. A committee of five miners was appointed to act in conjunction with the national and district officers to arrange the details in connection with the resumption. Some of the national officers were severely criticised for agreeing to district settlements and partial resumption at the Columbus conference."

This morning the miners employed by the Cresson and Clearfield Coal and Coke company at Frugality will return to work. They number about 450 and will return at 35 cents per ton. These men went out on the 20th of last April in sympathy with those miners in the district whose wages had been reduced to 35 cents, the Frugality miners then getting 40 cents per ton net. From that time until the present they have lost $50,000 in wages.

On Saturday last a number of evicted miners who had been employed in the Cymbria mines near Barnesboro', Cambria county, marched in a body to the coal tipples. On their arrival they found some half-dozen men on the tipple who were armed and whom the superintendent of the mines stated were deputies, although they were not at the time. The sheriff of the county, having been sent for, responded and on his arrival, the men were sworn in. In the meantime, however, the miners who had assembled committed no acts of violence and on the arrival of the sheriff peacably dispersed.

The miners employed at the Sterling mines at Hastings will resume work at 35 cents per ton this morning. It is understood that a number of other mines in Cambria county will resume at the same time and at the same rate.

Victory for the Vigilant.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, Aug. 5.—The Vigilant handsomely retrieved her reputation yesterday in a splendid race for a prize of $500 over the course of the Royal Yacht squadron. She beat the Prince of Wales' cutter, the Brittannia, in a brisk breeze that held almost true from start to finish, over a course of forty-eight nautical miles, a third of which was in the open water of the English channel. There was a channel sea celebrated for choppiness, supposed to be resistless to American models, which did not materially interfere with the triumphant progress of the New York sloop.

THE NEW YORK
FAMILY STORY PAPER
FOR 1894.

The twenty-first year since the birth of this paper finds it attaining its legal majority.
As a matter of fact
The New York
Family Story Paper
Has, for years, been the giant of all weekly periodicals, it having the largest circulation of any similar paper in the world.
The signal achievement of the year now drawing to a close was the addition of four Webb Perfecting presses, each with a capacity of 100,000 complete copies per day, to twenty-two flat presses heretofore used in the home of the FAMILY STORY PAPER. All these presses are kept running at their full capacity every day, and that will give some little idea of the enormous number (running into the millions) of FAMILY STORY PAPERS and FAMILY STORY PAPER SPECIALS, printed and distributed each week.
Monro's Publishing House
Its splendid staff of authors, consisting of Mrs. Lillian R. Drayton,
Mrs. Geraldine Fleming,
Mrs. Charlotte M. Kinsley,
Mr. T. W. Hanshew,
Mrs. Emma Garrison Jones,
"Girlie" May
Miss Evelyn Malcolm,
Mrs. Mary Kyle Dallas,
Miss Ibi S. Jackman,
Mrs. M. A. Kidder,
and others will continue to contribute to its columns the best and brightest efforts of their genius, and new authors whose works show superior talent will be added at whatever cost.

Lashing of a Woman.

Connellsville, Pa., Aug 5.—A savage punishment was meted out to a young Slav woman near Leith Friday night. She had been accused of disobeying the moral code of her native land, and her countrymen decided to administer the customary lashing.

Her family protested, but in vain, and they were afraid to appeal from the decree of the Slav tribunal. A party of Slavs took the young woman from her friends, stripped her of most of her clothing, pinned her arms and feet, lashed her to a stake and whipped her savagely. For more than an hour, while being punished, she was reviled, tormented and spat upon by anybody in the crowd who cared to take a hand. She was left tied to a whipping stake and remained there six hours, as the case is stated to the local authorities, before anyone dared release her.

After she had been whipped a young man who pitied the agony she was suffering offered to loosen some of the cords that bound her, but was promptly beaten off by a mob. When the girl was taken down Friday night she could hardly move. County Detective Campbell has the case in hand.

THE PASTILLE CURE FOR NERVOUS DEBILITY TRADE MARK

Prof. HARRIS' SOLUBLE MEDICATED Pastille

—Has been put up in a proprietary form since 1878, and has been used for years prior to that time in private practice. It is no untried nostrum, of doubtful reputation, but a genuine specific for a very prevalent disease. Thousands of men, of all ages, have at some time in life brought on nervous debility and exhaustion, with organic weakness, by over brain work, excesses, too frequent indulgence or indiscretion and vicious habits, and it is to these that we offer a remedy that will, by its direct action upon the seat of the disease, stop the drain and restore the patient to vigorous health and strength.

Our method of introducing Prof. Harris' Pastille treatment is one which commends itself to all sensible persons—for the reason that we supply it upon their judgment of its value. We ask of our patrons nothing in the way of expense beyond a postal card and a two cent postage stamp. The postal card to be used in sending us their full address and the postage stamp for the letter returning the statement of their case for which we supply them with a question blank, to be filled out, and an envelope addressed to ourselves for use in returning it when filled.

FREE TRIAL PACKAGE. When we receive the statement on blank we prepare eight days' treatment and forward it, by mail and prepay postage thereon—and along with the eight days' treatment we send full directions for using. The treatment in no way interferes with a person's attention to business, and causes no pain or inconvenience in any way.

We are so positive that it will give perfect satisfaction that we leave the matter of sending orders entirely with those using the free trial treatment. Having satisfied those sending for trial packages of our ability to benefit their sexual condition we feel that they are more largely interested than ourselves in continuing the use of the Pastilles. Even then we do not attempt to rob them by demanding high prices. On the contrary, we make the prices as low as possible, and the same to all. They are as follows: $3 for one month; $5 for two months; $7 for three months.

These prices secure the delivery of the Pastilles by mail. If desired by express we leave the patient to pay the charges. For over ten years we have operated our business upon this plan with satisfactory results.

We ask all persons needing treatment for any of the secret ills which come to mankind through a violation of nature's laws to send us their address on postal card or by letter and allow us to convince them that PROF. HARRIS' SOLUBLE MEDICATED PASTILLES have merit and are what they need.

All communications confidential and should be addressed to

Apples as Food.

It is not probable that we fully appreciate the true merits of the apple in part, because it is too often, if not generally, taken simply for the sake of gratifying a morbid appetite, instead of being eaten as part of our meals like other kinds of food. It is believed that a good, mellow apple, taken ten minutes before each meal will be useful, preparing the way for the digestive process, aiding digestion, besides co-operating with other kinds of food, more nutritious, in sustaining the body. Both the malic and acetic acids contained in the apple aid in digestion which must constitute this fruit an important addition to grain food, especially bread. While it is stated that apples are thrown up some time after they are eaten, undigested, it is probable that such were eaten in addition to a full meal instead of a part of it, like other food. Of course, so taxing the stomach that it could not do its work, or, worse still, eaten at any time between the meals, not only stopping digestion of the former meal, but adding so much to the labor of the stomach, oftener than otherwise more taxed, more cruelly treated than the "beasts of burden" around us—a slave to the body! Again, it is probable that hard apples are eaten in haste, not half chewed, these coarse masses not being penetrated by the juices of the stomach, of course, undigested. On this account it is well to have such made soft by cooking, or eaten as sauce, in moderation. It is probable that those troubled with kidney and urinary difficulties find that apples, particularly the sour ones, do not agree with them, while a free use of cooked apples will be useful to those troubled with constipation. Nothing can be reasonably said against good, mellow, sweet apples in the matter of digestion, as they digest in an hour and a half, the sour ones in two hours, hard sour ones in less than three hours (the time required for beefsteak), and apple dumplings in three hours. The juice and pulp of apples most certainly are far safer than hard cider, with a large per cent. of alcohol, the apple containing no alcohol.

Brace the Nerves.

Sedatives and opiates won't do it. These nervines do not make the nerves strong, and failing to do this fall short of producing the essential of their quietude-vigor. And while in extreme cases—and these only—of nervous irritation such drugs may be advisable, their frequent use is highly prejudical to the delicate organism upon which they act, and in order to renew their quieting effect increased and dangerous doses eventually become necessary. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is an efficient substitute for such pernicious drugs. It quiets the nerves by bracing, toning, strengthening them. The connection between weakness of the nervous system and that of the organs of digestion is a strong and sympathetic link. The Bitters, by imparting a healthful impulse to the digestive and assimilating functions, promotes throughout the whole system a vigor in which the nerves come in for a large share. Use the Bitters in malaria, constipation, bilious and kidney trouble.

The Crop Report.

The weather crop bulletin for the week ending July 30th states that the late local showers did much to improve the condition of the crop. The relief, however, is only temporary; the rain fall being light, was rapidly absorbed and is fast drying out. Oats harvest about over. Yield light. Pasturage getting in bad condition. Many crops permanently injured, but early rains will revive corn and some other products.

—Tyrone's mortality list during the month of July just past has been unusually large. Nineteen deaths occurred in the borough in the seventh month of the present year. For the corresponding month last year only four deaths are recorded. During the preceding six months of the year there were only 30 deaths, showing that July contributed nearly two-thirds as many deaths as the first half of the year. Eight deaths have occurred outside the borough in this vicinity during July, which added to the nineteen above mentioned, make twenty-seven funerals Undertakers Burley & Graham have attended in one month.—Tyrone Herald.

Wise And Generous.

The sending of a letter of thanks, accompanied by a check, to each of the employes of the Pennsylvania Company who refused to go on strike during the Chicago troubles, is a recognition that is well deserved by the recipients. Every workingman knows that it requires more than an ordinary amount of courage to stand against the opinions of the majority in cases of strikes. The opprobrious epithets that are bestowed upon men who will not join in a revolt against employers are such as sink deeply into the heart of the average man, and he does not feel that any money could repay him for what he suffers.

When the difficulty is over, it is only right that the employers for whom the men have made such sacrifices should recognize them in a tangible manner, although it is not often done. Men are blamed, as a whole, for joining strikers, but in view of the pressure brought to bear upon them, the wonder is that any of them can be found to withstand it.

There is another side to this action of the Pennsylvania Company that calls for commendation, however, which is that it does a great deal toward prompting a spirit of friendship and community of interest between employers and employes, and that is what is needed. With cordial relations existing between those who occupy those two most important social relations in the civilized world trouble may be reduced, if not avoided. Harmony is a cheaper peace promoter than force.

Better Times Now.

The Harrisburg Patriot says: There has been a general revival of business in this city the past ten days. With few exceptions all the large manufacturing establishments are running full time and the trainmen and employes in the Pennsylvania railroad shops and round houses are making better time than they have for a year. Local and through freight on this railroad is very heavy, with prospects of increased traffic the next six weeks.

The shipment of coal over the road is heavier than it has been for months, many of the local manufacturers are stocking up for fall and winter and the company is shipping the coal from its mines as fast as it is minded. The shipment of lumber, stone, and other building material is also very heavy and indicates that many new houses are going up through the city.

There are a few idle men here at present and it looks as if those who now have no work will soon find something to do if they want to work.

What is Home?

"Home" says Robertson in his sermons, "Is the one place in all the world where hearts are sure of each other. It is a place of confidence. It is the place where we tear off that mask of guarded and suspicious coldness which the world forces us to wear in self-defense, where we pour out the unreserved communication of full and confiding hearts. It is the spot where expression of tenderness gush out without any sensation of awkwardness, and without any dread of ridicule. Let a man go where he will, home is the place to which 'his heart untrammelled fondly turns.' He is to double all pleasure there. He is to divide all pain. A happy home is the single spot of rest which a man has upon this earth for the cultivation of his noblest sensibilities."

—A granger picnic will be held in Funk's grove at Warriorsmark on Saturday next, August 11. Hon. John G. Love is booked for a speech and other prominent men will be present and deliver addresses. A big time is expected.

The Winning Ones.

The only men who have brought great things to pass in the moral and spiritual realm have been judged as fanatics by their less enthusiastic fellow citizens. It has been said of them that they were "not right" in their minds; that on the particular subject which absorbed their thoughts they were crazed. This impression got abroad because they cared more for their cause than for themselves; because they never thought of their personal fortunes.

Whenever a great crisis occurs in the world's history only men who have the courage of their convictions and who are willing to sacrifice themselves for truth's sake are fit for the urgent duties of the hour. So long as Truth is but a weak and feeble bantling the average individual gives her but scanty countenance. There were scores of men in the United Colonies on July 4, 1776, who would never have attached their names to the Declaration of Independence. There are hundreds in the Christian churches to-day who would never have dared to offend public sentiment by following the prophet of Nazareth when he walked the earth in bodily shape. An equal number would have held aloof from the patriot cause had they belonged to the generation that lived in 1776.

On the moral and spiritual line those only achieve greatness who utterly lose sight of themselves in their devotion to a cause. No enduring reform was ever wrought by a coward. Irresolution and timidity do not constitute a part of the outfit of a moral hero. The Man of Nazareth courted death, and it came in dreadful form, but millions whisper his name with loving reverence to-day. His followers were overwhelmed, but not until they had turned the world upside down, and linked their names to immortality.

On a lower level, that a material success, it is fundamentally true that only those succeed who suject themselves to stern discipline. He who has supreme control of his appetites, his passions, his desires, who is willing to submit to present hardship and discomfort for the sake of future good, who owns and controls himself and all his faculties, will achieve his purpose.—Altoona Tribune.

MANAGER WANTED—to appoint salesmen to sell the Rapid Dish Washer. Washes and dries the dishes in two minutes without wetting the fingers. $75 a week and all expenses. Easy position; no capital; no hard work; can make $100 a week. Address W. P. Harrison & Co., Clerk 14, Columbus, Ohio. 16 eod 1w

PAINT cracks.—It often costs more to prepare a house for repainting that has been painted in the first place with cheap ready-mixed paints, than it would to have painted it twice with strictly pure white lead, ground in pure linseed oil.

Strictly Pure White Lead

forms a permanent base for repainting and never has to be burned or scraped off on account of scaling or cracking. It is always smooth and clean. To be sure of getting strictly pure white lead, purchase any of the following brands:

"Armstrong & McKelvy,"
"Beymer-Bauman,"
"Davis-Chambers,"
"Fahnestock."

For COLORS.—National Lead Co.'s Pure White Lead Tinting Colors, a one-pound can to a 25-pound keg of Lead and mix your own paints. Saves time and annoyance in matching shades, and insures the best paint that it is possible to put on wood.

Send us a postal card and get our book on paints and color-card, free; it will probably save you a good many dollars.

IN DOUBT AND GLOOM.

Appears to Be Shrouded the Fate of the Democratic Tariff Bill.

Washington, August 6.—The condition of the tariff bill appeared to be more mixed than at any time during the past week, and its ultimate fate more shrouded in doubt and gloom. There was a good deal of talk to the effect that there would be an agreement by to-morrow night, but all the evidence that came before the public eye led to anything but that conclusion. While it is true that the conferees remained in session for a long time and that much work was done, it is still true that there was an outcropping of the old time impatience, which went so far at one time as to cause the senate conferees to leave the room for upwards of an hour, only to return, it is said, upon a request being sent them by the house conferees.

When the adjournment was taken to-night some of the conferees were willing to admit that they hoped for an agreement by to-morrow night, but others, notably from the senate end, said they saw nothing whatever in sight, unless it be a disagreement. The concensus of opinion was that nothing had been done and absolutely no conclusion reached.

So far as the sugar schedule is concerned, that appears to have been put out on the way.

The chief contention is now over coal and iron ore. The house still insists upon free coal and iron, and it is said this persistance to-day caused the withdrawal of the senate conference from the room, after the declaration that it was impossible for the senate to give way to their demands, and that the house intended to persist in their efforts in that direction the time put in consideration of the bill was so much time wasted.

On the other hand it is said the conferees on the part of the senate are endeavoring to get the consent of the combine to a sliding scale which they have proposed. Under this scale the duty is to be 40 cents per ton for three years and 25 cents a ton for two years and after that free. The house will not, it is said, accede to even this, but demand that the duty shall be reduced five cents each year for five years and then both coal and iron ore to be free, as they have not indicated their willingness to accept even this. Until these two articles are finally settled one way or the other, there can be no agreement and the sturdy way in which the house is holding out gives little hope for a speedy result. It is said almost all of the points of disagreement have been gone over and that it will be but a matter of a few hours for the settlement of the whole bill when the stumbling block is out of the way.

Americans Want To Fight.

Washington, Aug. 6.—Several hundred letters containing tenders of service to the Japanese government in the war with China have been received at the legation here. They come from nearly every part of the United States. One of the latest was an ex-Confederate, at Greenville, Miss., offering to raise a battalion, and even a regiment of men, if desired, at that place and New Orleans; another was from the foreign legion, of Columbus, O; a third came from an individual who was willing to raise a company of picked sharpshooters, and a fourth was from a person who had some torpedo device he was willing to part with for a consideration. Such communications as the last mentioned were turned over to the naval attache of the legation to do with as he deems best. To the others the legation officials return polite declinations.

It is a penal offense for Americans to serve either in the Chinese or Japanese service while the two nations are at war, so that the latter government cannot under any circumstances accept the offers.

May Have to Wait.

Washington, Aug. 6.—With the present session of congress drawing to a close and all attention at any time likely to be concentrated upon the tariff bill, it is not considered probable that the senate will act upon either the Arizona or New Mexico statehood bills before final adjournment. This was the understanding when the bills were reported from the committee on territories, and nothing has transpired since the reports were made to alter the situation in this respect.

The date of admission in the case of Arizona and of the constitutional convention in the case of New Mexico has been so deferred in the senate bill as reported as to render this deferment possible without rendering a change in the text of the bill necessary in case of postponement. The provision in the Arizona bill is for admission on the 1st of Augnst, 1895, while the convention provided for in the New Mexico bill is not to meet until July of 1895.

Dont Monkey With The Snake!

It is stated that a rattle-snake cannot bite if held up by the tail. Would you like to put the statement to a practical test? Probably not; but how often do you take far greater risks? A snake-bite is not the only means of introducing poison into the system. If your liver is sluggish, it fails to remove the impurities from the blood which passes through it, and deadly poisons are thus thrown into the circulation, all the more dangerous because they are insidious. If your blood is impure, if your liver is out of order, if you have blotches, pimples, boils or eruptions, "don't monkey with the snake!" Take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the only specific against all blood-poisons, no matter of what name or nature. It is sold under a positive guarantee that it will benefit or cure, or your money will be refunded.

Jumped to Death.

Harrisburg, Aug. 6.—"The river is good enough for me," said pretty Lizzie Cunningham at midnight on Saturday night as she leaped into the Susquehanna to her death.

Lizzie had been to Bridgeport, on the opposite side of the river from Harrisburg, in company with Wm. B. Berry, a mail carrier, with whom she was infatuated. At Bridgeport, according to Berry's story, she drank six times of whiskey and four glasses of beer, and when the two started for Harrisburg she was rather shaky on her feet.

They crossed the People's bridge and got to the fourth pier, when, observing Lizzie loitering behind, Berry said: "Hurry up, Lizzie, it is time to go home. You should be in bed by this time." The girl despondently said: "The river is good enough for me," and climbed on the bridge rail she let herself down, and held by her hands. Berry made a dash for her and caught her hand, but she shook her self free and made the plunge of ninety feet into the water.

Berry at once hurried to this city and got a boat to search for her, but she could not be found. Others joined the search, attracted by Berry's cries. The man said he had nothing to do with her death, and he was a ruined man, but the girl was not found. Berry gave himself up to the police and was held at the mayor's office all night. About 5 o'clock Sunday morning the body of the girl was found lodged on the shelving surrounding a pier on the old foot bridge. It was brought to shore and taken to her mother's residence, where an inquest was held. Berry was the only witness, and, as he is a young man whose word has never been doubted, the verdict was death from suicide.

Miss Cunningham was a prepossessing blonde, and several years ago was married to a young man named Keil. They quarreled and a divorce followed, since when she has been residing with her mother. Berry is almost distracted, and it is feared will do something desperate. It is said the girl followed him around, and was annoying in her attentions to him. It was a plain case of reckless bravado while the girl was under the influence of liquor.

White Lead as a Preservative.

[From the English Mechanic]

The advantages of using genuine white lead for painting surfaces, especially iron work have been known for years, but an instance mentioned by Sir William Arrol will serve to impress the fact on the memory. Some years ago he purchased the materials of old Hammersmith Bridge for the purpose of using a portion in erecting a temporary plant at one of his large undertakings. The iron work had been in position sixty-two years, and many of the parts, owing to inaccessibility, had not been painted since they were placed in position. Finding them in so remarkable a state of preservation Sir William Arrol had some of the paint analyzed, when it was found to be genuine white lead.

THE VIGILANT WON.

Old Neptune Favored the Boat that Needed a Breeze.

Cowes, August 6.—The Royal London Yacht club regatta for the 130-guinea purse competed for by the Vigilant, Brittannia and Satanita, started promptly at 10 o'clock this morning, The course was eastward around the Isle of Wight, outside of Nomanfort and the Rembridge lodge buoy.

The Vigilant and Brittannia clung to each other on the first half of the course with a persistency which indicated each skipper was fearful that the other might get a favorable slant that would send him ahead. Among the maxims of Captain Hank Huff, is one that all Yankee skippers follow, that is, never split tacts or break company with the boat you think you can beat. The Brittannia ran into the shoal water off Ventnors and struck twice. The Vigilant stuck to her. Pilot Diaper shouted: "If you keep on this course we will go ashore." Mr. Iselin, who had charge of the Vigilant, said: "I don't give a d—n if we do; go where she goes." The Brittania struck twice but was not much impeded by the accident. The Vigilant also touched bottom but she had her board up and she probably was not damaged.

The Brittania will go on dry dock to-morrow. It is thought that she is injured.

When the yachts finished the band played "God Save the Queen."

Most of the Vigilant's lead was made in the run home from the Needles. The time at the finish: Vigilant, 5.04:35; Brittania, 5.12:48; Satanita, 5.46:33 (estimated).

Nearly all the Vigilant's lead was made in the run from the Needles. As on Saturday the whistles of the yachts and the voices of the multitude were silent when the white sloop swept across the line, but the band on the royal yacht squadron pier played what the enthusiastic Americans thought was "America," and the Britons were sure it was "God Save the Queen."

"Who hath not own'd with rapture-smitten frame
The power of grace, the magic of a name?"

Ask Campbell, the poet, in his "Plesures of Hope, forsooth. Many and many a woman knows them no longer. They are in despair about their health. They are run-down, debilitated, suffering from what they know not. It may be dyspepsia, heart disease, liver or kidney disease; any or all of them. The sicknesses of women are cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. That's where the magic of a name comes in. This improves digestion invigorates the system, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, produces refreshing sleep, dispels nervousness and melancholy, and builds up both the flesh and strength of those reduced below a healthy standard. It is a legitimate medicine, not a beverage. Contains no alcohol to inebriate; no sugar or syrup to sour in the stomach and cause distress. It is as peculiar in its composition as it is marvelous in its remedical results.

Reason on This.

You would call a man a fool to try to run an engine with a crooked piston-rod. Yet you are attempting that when you live with your system in a disordered condition. Whatever you may be mentally, you are physically a machine. Nothing interests you more than keeping it in order. If your digestion is out of condition, or your kidneys are disordered, use Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, a medicine prepared by a famous physician, and tested for years by thousands of persons, who all endorse it.

A Farmer's Good Work.

The Chambersburg Valley Spirit says: July 26 and 27 George W. Bitner threshed on the farm formerly owned by William S. Keefer, in Hamilton township, 1,431 bushels of wheat in one and three-fourths days. Considering the oppressive heat and the fact that the machine had to be moved three times this record is hard to beat. The wheat was of the "Spade" variety and was cut from sixty acres of ground, making almost twenty-four bushels to the acre.

Carriages Without Horses.

Vehicles driven by steam or petroleum made the 90 miles between Paris and Rouen over the carriage road last Saturday with success. It was shown that for certain purposes and on good roads of a certain degree of excellence the horse is not the best motor. The steam carriage of the Count de Dion, carrying four persons, attained a speed of seventeen miles an hour. A petroleum motor took the second place. The race has caused much attention to be given to improvements in the construction of vehicles of this kind. It is seen that they are far from perfect. In appearance as well as design they need the development that can be obtained only by extended use. Carriage road motors have long been in use in this country and in Europe where roads are suitable, but their imperfections have not been sufficiently attended to. As at present made in England and Germany road motors have broad tires and do not injure the roads. On the contrary, they are believed to benefit them since they act like rollers in smoothing the roads.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."
DR. G. C. OSGOOD,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
DR. J. F. KINCHELOE,
Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
H. A. ARCHER, M. D.,
111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

THE PANSY COTTAGE NO 12.

This 5-room cottage, besides attic room and bath room, may be built in brick for $1700, or in frame for $1400, the price varying slightly according to locality.

There are very few of our readers who are not interested at all times in building. Even though not contemplating building at all seasons of the year the subject affords so much thought and study, and has so many and varied attractions that it is always of the greatest interest to the majority of the reading public.

We have secured authority to offer the plan of the "Pansy" to subscribers on the above terms, which are such as to justify each and all of our readers to send in orders promptly.

These plans are drawn to a scale and are mechanically correct. They are guaranteed ready to build from and consist of interior sectional view and exterior prospective view, picture of each floor plan, roof and porch, front and side elevations, with full detail sheet, all drawn to a scale for the contractor, with complete and accurate specifications. It will also have an estimate with detailed list and prices of all material used, with full particulars and advice regarding division of cost for various lines of material, instructions to builder, etc. Everything that can be furnished by a competent architect is provided for. The original architect's drawing cost $25.00 and any one of our readers can obtain same by sending to the REPUBLICAN office and Fifty cents and the above certificate clipped from this paper.

It is our intention to issue these plans in serial form. Builders and Architects and all persons interested in building can secure any of the plans advertised on the above condition —50 cents and a Certificate—thereby saving upwards of $25.00 which an architect would require for furnishing plans with all the details given in ours. Our readers are thus afforded an opportunity seldom offered, and all interested in building even to the slightest extent, should not hesitate to take advantage of this offer.

These plans are under the personal supervision of James Hennerty.

Send in orders for "The Pansy Cottage" promptly before supply becomes exhausted. Address REPUBLICAN, Bellefonte, Pa.

...DY FOR THE BOYS IN BLUE.

...parations for the National G. A. ... Encampment Nearing Completion.

The more than 1,300 committeemen comprising the Citizens' Executive Board of Pittsburg are hustling for all they worth to make the 28th National Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, to be held in that city September 10-15 next, a big success. The indications are for a tremendous turnout of veterans. More than 25,000 of them have been assigned to free quarters, to say nothing of the 5,000 to 10,000 who have reserved paid quarters and the 5,000 resident Grand Army men who will not need to secure accommodations. This means that there will be over 50,000 of the "boys in blue" in Pittsburg during encampment week.

There will be three grand parades :—the Naval Veterans on the 10th, the Grand Army proper on the 15th and the Union Ex-Prisoners of War on the 12th. Pittsburg will be more lavishly decorated than ever in its history. There will be about 125 reunions of army associations and about 10 conventions of national organizations of various kinds. On the evening of September 11th there will be six grand camp-fires, presided over by soldiers of renown. It is confidently hoped that Ex-President Harrison and Gov. McKinley will attend. Gov. Pattison and his staff will be guests of honor also.

There will be a number of triumphal arches and preparations have been made for such a display of electrical and natural gas illuminations and fire works as has never before been seen in Western Pennsylvania. In addition to the hotels in Pittsburg the citizens have thrown open their homes to make welcome everyone of the 300,000 strangers expected that week.

Farmers in Distress.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 7.—H. S. Aley, R. A. Hawley and H. M. Reeves, at the request of the local Nationalist club, yesterday signed and sent to Governor Crounse a letter in which they call attention to the crop failures in certain districts of the state and say: "It is believed that thousands of families will either starve, emigrate or be fed by charity unless the people of the state as a whole provide for them." They then suggest "that a special session of the state legislature be called and the objects be set forth in said call to at once cause surveys of all the available water courses for irrigation purposes, and that these people be employed and paid by the state in scrip in such convenient denominations as will be serviceable as a medium of exchanges for constructing the same."

Governor Crounse is at present in the east, and Lieutenant Governor Majors, who is acting governor, has not yet returned from his home. The trouble is not generally believed to be as severe as the petition indicates and an extra session is unlikely.

Rioting In South Omaha.

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 7.—Rioting has begun in earnest in South Omaha, as the result of the packing houses putting new men to work. Two of the employes were caught outside the works by a crowd of strikers and seriously injured. The crowd bounced onto the workmen, but a force of stockyards men, who were near succeeded in driving the strikers off. At this time a crowd came marching toward the scene headed by a man who carried a red flag. These men were persuaded to halt, however, by cooler heads before they reached the place where the rioting was going on.

During the afternoon several smaller riots occurred, but no one was seriously injured. The strikers are heavily armed with clubs and revolvers, and have said that no man outside the works would be allowed to return to work in the morning. The force of police is inadequate to suppress the strikers, and the sheriff has not the forces to quell any of the disturbances. It is stated that the state militia will be brought into service in the morning.

While the dummy, which carried the Omaha workers from their work, was passing B street, it was stoned and two men were injured. A few shots were fired during the riots, but no one was hurt.

They operate gently, yet thoroughly, and without griping nausea, or other unpleasant effects. In vials, convenient to carry.

ON A LONG RACE.

Bicyclers En Route from Washington with a Letter to the Governor of Colorado.

Washington Aug 7.—A relay bicycle race was never started in fairer weather than that which favored the first stage of the big relay run from the White House to the capitol at Denver, Col., 2,037 miles, which began at noon yesterday.

The letter, which was intrusted to the riders from the White House, was addressed simply to "The Governor of Colorado," without mentioning the name of the executive of that state, and was signed by President Cleveland's private secretary.

The start was made from under the porte cochere of the main entrance of the White House, the first two relay riders being Chief Counsul French, of the League of American Wheelmen, and Private Ronsaville, of the Washington Road club.

The time ball on the war department, which was the signal for the start, had hardly reached the bottom of the staff before the riders were out of the White House grounds, and they turned the first street corner amid the cheers of the bystanders. About twenty cyclists accompanied the two message bearers, and there was a lively race for the first relay post, one mile distant.

Just before the start was made Representative Springer, of Illinois, handed Mr. French a letter addressed to Arthur D. Black, the manager of the trip, at Jacksonville, Ill., expressing the hope that a great record would be made.

A message for Brigadier-General A. McD. McCook, commanding the department of Colorado, at Denver, from General Greely, chief of the signal office, war department, was also given to Mr. French and the three missives were wrapped together in oil paper and placed in a letter pouch, which was thrown across the rider's shoulder. The president did not witness the start, but sent his letter out by the chief usher of the White House. Several congressmen saw the start.

A SAD AFFAIR.

Two Children Drowned in the Lake Near Black Bear Switch.

One of the saddest affairs that has happened in this neighborhood for some time occurred Monday evening about 7 o'clock. David Reybould, an Englishman, who came to this country about eight years ago, has for some time lived with his wife and five children in North Philipsburg where he owns a little home. Monday the mother walked over the hills to Empire Mines to see a friend. In the evening three of the children started to meet their mother. When they reached Black Bear switch their attention was drawn to some water lilies in the lake near by. Albert aged 6 years, walked down to the edge of the lake to gather some of the lillies, and reaching after one lost his balance and fell into the water. Alice, aged 8 years, attempted to rescue her brother and was pulled into the water and both were drowned before help could be secured. The little 4 year old sister, who stood on the railroad adjoining taking in the situation, hurriedly ran home to tell what had happened. It was not long until a number of persons reached the lake, and after considerable searching, the bodies were found, cold in death, embraced in each others arms.

We visited the Reybould home this morning and found the parents over whelmed with grief as a result of this sad calamity. They were bright, interesting children, and the circumstances attending their death makes the occurrence very sad indeed, and we are sure that the sympathy of the entire community goes out to the sorrow stricken family.

The funeral took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock.—Philipsburg Journal.

IT appears that the new Connecticut hanging machine does not work by waterpower, after the Colorada plan, but is more on the principle of the nickel-in-the-slot weighing machines recently familiar. The condemned man steps upon the platform and the machine does the rest. It is not even necessary for the Sheriff to touch the button, though he may accelerate or retard the action of the machine by that means if he will. Thus official responsibility is reduced to a minimum and every culprit is made his own executioner. This is regarded as a great modern improvement, in Connecticut.

A VERITABLE PICNIC.

The Corn Market Causes Trouble in Chicago's Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, August 7.—A series of rapid up turns in corn the past few days culminated this morning in a veritable panic on the board of trade, and one of the wildest and most exciting openings that has been seen in years was witnessed when the bell tapped 9.30. The corn market was the leader in strength and activity, the others keeping well in line. Trades were made at any price. Shorts in their terror did not stop to think what their loss would be but executed orders at whatever figure possible, and on several occasions prices were two and three cents apart at the same time.

The first half hour had passed before there was the least sign of calmness. A pause for breath then came but it was of short duration. A renewal of frantic efforts to cover short sales made ten and fifteen cents below the ruling quotations followed the temporary quiet. Offerings did not increase, but rather diminished as values soared skyward. The bears were determined to cover and paid anything that was asked for the smallest sized lots. There was scarcely any abatement in the uproar through the entire day.

The dry weather throughout the corn belt, the fear that the Iowa state report, which was to be issued to-day, would show a drop below 50 per cent. and the appeal of the governor of Nebraska for relief for the farmers of that state were all more or less responsible for the state of to-day's market. Near the close a rumor that a prominent operator was in trouble added to the already panic, The rumor lacked complete verification, although it was acknowledged by some houses that they had closed out trades for the party mentioned because he had failed to respond to margin calls.

At the end of the session September corn was 6⅜ cents higher than yesterday; May 5¼ cents above that day's final quotations. The net gain in two weeks has been about twenty cents. Wheat and oats each closed 2¾ cents higher than last night.

One thing that makes the situation most serious for those on the wrong side of the market is the daily increase in the stocks on hand in the Chicago elevators, against which trading can be done. "Ed" Partridge, the famous plunger, who now, as always, is short in wheat a large line, became so excited and noisy on the floor that the police were forced to drag him out of the pit and eject him from the trading room. He was then taken before the board of directors and suspended for sixty days for disorderly conduct.

But It Was No Wonder She Didn't Understand Why She Had To.

The chiropodist had just moved into his new parlors. Before his arrival they had been occupied by a dentist. Though as yet no white marble foot upon the pavement informed the uninitiated that within dwelt an operator upon corns and bunions at a reasonable rate, yet such was the case.

A rushing business had been in progress all the morning. At noon the chiropodist, a rather timid and youthful appearing man, started to go out to his lunch, when the door opened and a young girl inquired if the doctor was in. She was about 10 years old, and with her was a young woman about 20, evidently her maid.

"Doctor," said the child, "you helped me so much six months ago that mamma suggested that I bring Nora down here. She is in very great pain."

The doctor did not quite recall what work he had done for the child, but politely requested Nora to walk into the operating room and get ready. This, in the language of the chiropodist, means to remove the shoe and stocking. The child seated herself in the outer parlor, and the chiropodist, after waiting the usual time, walked into the little room where Nora was awaiting him. There she sat leaning back in the big chair with a nervous expression upon her face, but without any change in her attire. The doctor was a trifle surprised, but he supposed this was a new experience to his patient.

"Just remove your shoe and stocking, please," he said as he walked over to the window.

Nora absolutely grew pale with fright, but complied with his request, taking off both shoes and both stockings.

She was a very unhappy looking young woman as she sat there in the high operating chair with both bare feet dangling just above the floor.

"Now, where do you feel the greatest pain?" asked the doctor.

Nora threw her head back, opened her expansive mouth very wide and pointing with one of her fat, red fingers to a wisdom tooth in her upper jaw, exclaimed: "There, doctor. Oh, it is something awful!"—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Curious Showers.

M. Peltier has put a frog shower on record as having happened within his own experience. He speaks of seeing the frogs fall on the roofs of the houses and rebound thence on to the pavement below. A mud shower occurred along the Union Pacific railway at Onaga on the 4th of April. The rain, we are assured, commenced early in the day, and soon the south and east sides of all the houses were covered with yellow clay.

A Union Pacific train which ran through the storm had its windows covered, and the headlight was so completely plastered that the light was shut in, and the train ran in darkness into Rossville, where the mud had to be scraped off. As far east as Topeka the windows showed that the edge of the mudstorm had extended this far. It is said to have been even more severe 50 miles northwest.

Blood rain and black rain are only varieties of this phenomenon. Of the latter we hear nothing worth speaking of nowadays, but an almost historic shower of this sort fell at Montreal in the earlier part of this century and enveloped the then youthful city in a black pall, which must have been worse than a prime London fog, seeing that it gave the inhabitants the idea that the last day had come, or was at least on the point of coming.

Blood rain is caused by the presence of infinitely little plants, animacules, or minerals in the globules. In one instance of a shower that fell at Bristol and in the Bristol channel, the analytical examination showed that the red color was due to ivy berry seeds. In mediæval times blood rain was a prodigy. In the east it was connected with the belief that man was produced from blood that fell from heaven.—Chambers' Journal.

The Discovery of Coffee.

Toward the middle of the fifteenth century a poor Arab was traveling in Abyssinia. Finding himself weak and weary he stopped near a grove. Being in want of fuel to cook his rice he cut down a tree, which happened to be covered with dried berries. His meal being cooked and eaten, the traveler discovered that these half burned berries were fragrant. He collected a number, and on crushing them with a stone he found the aroma increased to a great extent.

While wondering at this, he accidentally let the substance fall into a can which contained his scanty supply of water. Lo, what a miracle! The almost putrid liquid was partially purified. He raised it to his lips. It was fresh and agreeable, and after a short rest the traveler so far recovered his strength and energy as to be able to resume his journey.

The lucky Arab gathered as many berries as he could, and having arrived at Aden in Arabia he informed the mufti of his discovery. That worthy was an inveterate opium smoker, who had been suffering for years from the influence of the poisonous drug. He tried an infusion of the roasted berries and was so delighted at the recovery of his former vigor that in gratitude to the tree he called it camuha, which in Arabic signifies force.—Brooklyn Eagle.

WESTERN TRAGEDY.

Fight Over Trespassing Hogs Cost the Lives of two Neighbors in Nebraska.

Tecumseh, Neb., Aug. 1.—As the result of a bloody shooting affair which took place just over the line in Pawnee county, two men are now dead and two seriously wounded.

Charles Schultz, a rich German farmer, with his two sons, Charles and Frank, lived neighbors to James Abbott, a respected farmer. The neighbors lately had a good deal of trouble because Abbott allowed his hogs to trespass on the fields of Schultz.

The elder Schultz, with his son Charles, loaded a double barreled shotgun on Monday and started on the warpath for Abbott's precin . As the men came towards Abbott's house he advanced to protect his property. Young Schultz was carrying the gun at the time, and, at the sight of his neighbor, the old man exclaimed:

"There is —— himself. Give him the load."

Young Schultz fired both barrels at Abbott, one charge hitting him, and thirty-seven No. 6 shot entered his left side and hip. Abbott was brought to this city in a dying condition, and Sheriff J. G. Stone, of Pawnee, informed of the condition of affairs. The sheriff, accompanied by a half dozen deputies, immediately departed to arrest the Schultzes. He wired Sheriff W. H. Woolsey, of this county, to bring a deputy and come down.

In the meantime, Schultz with his sons, had started in a buggy west from the farm hoping to escape, but at a corner they met three deputies—Cliff Taylor, Jack Casford and H. Runion.

A lively chase for nearly a mile followed. Finally as the deputies were being outrun, they ordered the fugitives to halt. They refused, and the deputies all fired at them.

The old man, who was in the back seat, was shot through the back and through the head. His son Charles was shot in the shoulder, but escaped to the woods. Frank was captured and brought to this city. The elder Schultz was removed to Steiner, where he died at 11 o'clock.

Abbott lies in a critical condition at the jail here. A big possee of men are scouring the country in search of Charles.

A $3,000,000 Fire.

Chicago, August 1.—A fire in the lumber district in the southwestern part of the city to-night caused a loss of $3,000,000. The fire is now under control, having burned along Blue Island avenue from Robey to Laflin streets, a distance of over a half mile.

The fire destroyed more property and in a shorter space of time than any fire which visited Chicago since the big conflagration in 1872. Over $3,000,000 worth of lumber, electric apparatus, cars, wheels, castings, stoves, patterns, buildings and other material were consumed in a seething furnace of over a half mile square in less than than three hours' time. The scene of the fire is what is known as the lumber district.

The territory burned over was bounded by Ashland avenue on the east and the south branch of the Chicago river, on the south by Blue Island avenue, on the north by Chicago avenue and on the west by Roby street. The fire was the worst which the department has been called on to fight in the last twenty-two years. There were many casualities among the firemen and spectators. The only death, so far as heard, was that of a boy who fell from a pile of lumber in a river slip and was drowned.

A Crank's Visit.

Washington, August 1.—The immunity from cranks which the white house officials have enjoyed for a few weeks was broken to-day by the appearance at the main doorway of an undersized man dressed in working clothes and carrying a bag of stone mason's tools over his shoulder. He was Thomas Cadogan and gave his address as the Lynn house on Pennsylvania avenue. In an excited manner he told the watchman, "I want to see the president."

"What for?" queried the policeman, quietly.

"They want to put me underground, see, and I want to tell the president about it; and you must not stop me," replied Cadogan nervously. A telephone call brought a patrol wagon and the man was carried to the Third precinct station. Some crank papers were found in his pockets, making it appear that Cadogan wanted to secure the president's permission to "line" the capitol building.

He has called before at the white house but was persuaded to go away. In a note he left for the president, he complained that the watchman kept him from discussing matters of importance with Mr Cleveland.

The $50,000 appropriation for acquiring land and locating the lines of battle at Gettysburg which was long ago voted by the House of Representatives were on Tuesday approved by the Senate, with an amendment giving the Secretary of War the right to acquire needed land by condemnation. This practically settles this matter, and the Federal Battlefield Commission may proceed with its work of ousting the trolley, with the knowledge that it has money enough behind it to pay its way. The commission is not endeavoring to suppress the trolley road, but merely to oust it from the most sacred and interesting points of the battlefield, where it is an intrusion and a nusiance. A route has been assigned the railroad company where it can serve the public without desecrating the battlefield, but in order to get the biggest damage possible the company is claiming that the shifting of the tracks will irreparably injure its franchise. Even if the railroad tracks are less advantageously placed by being taken off the heart of the battlefield that is no reason for not removing them. They have no business where they are at all, and the cost of the right of way added to the cost of removal should be the outside measure of the company's damages. Any railway company might and must have known when it went to digging up a battlefield as important as Gettysburg that it was liable to be laid by the heels any time and thrown over the fence. The Gettysburg trolley run a risk and has only itself to thank if it proves a losing one.

From Hunter's Park.

The apple crop in this section of the county is going to be very poor.

Mrs. Julia Bell, of Fillmore, visited the family of J. H. Reeser on Thursday.

Mr. Philip Resides, aged 85 years, is quite ill at present and his recovery is doubtful.

The young son of Reuben Crust, who was so severely injured in a self-binder on Monday, is getting as well as possible.

Mr. William Tressler is having an artesian well put down on his farm so that he can secure a more steady and ample supply of water.

On Thursday Harry Reeser, while working in the oats field, was attacked by a large copperhead snake. The reptile was in for fight and jumped for Harry's breast, but missed and struck his arm. While the men were hunting for this snake a large blacksnake made its appearance also.

Last Saturday night some miscreant went into the field of Thomas Kennedy and tore up his self-binder. The cutter bar, piston rod, bolts and a number of nuts were removed and many carried off or hidden. The web was removed and the machine badly dilapidated in every particular. It will undoubtedly go hard with the person or persons who done the deed, if they are ever found out.

A New Postal office Created.

The postmaster general has issued an order providing for the appointment of a superintendent of mails for such offices of the first and second class as he may deem necessary. This official is to be appointed from the cleerial force of the officer or from the railway mail service, and he will have the entire charge of the distribution and despatch of all mails at such postoffices. In addition to this, he will prepare and correct all necessary schemes or lists for distribution subject to the approval of the division superintendeut of the railway mail service, and will conduct case examinations and keep an account of all errors made by the clerks.

Secret Society Movement.

Members of the various secret and fraternal societies throughout the state and beyond the borders of Pennsylvania are deeply interested in a movement in Johnstown. It is the purpose to have mass meetings in that place of all secret and fraternal societies in Cambria and surrounding counties on Wednesday and Thursday, August 15 and 16 next. Arrangements have already been perfected for the mass meetings, railroad excursion rates from various points are being arranged for, the committee on speakers are perfecting a program, the committee on parade is arranging details for a grand fraternal spectacle and the merchants and business men are preparing to provide attractive decorations.

Dangerous Counterfeit.

The most dangerous counterfeit of U. S. money discovered for years was announced from the treasury department yesterday. Because it is so difficult of detection from the genuine note the counterfeit is described in minute detail by the secret service in order to put the public on its guard. The counterfeit is of the $10 legal tender note, series of 1880, check letter B, face plate number 2250, back plate number 2292, signed by W. S. Rosecrans, register; James W. Hyatt, treasurer, and bearing a portrait of Webster and a large round, red seal.

Justice Will Overtake Him.

An editor works 365 days per year to get out fifty-two issues of a paper; that's labor. Once in a while somebody pays a year's subscription, that's capital. And once in a while some son of a gun of a dead beat takes the paper for years and vanishes without paying for it; that's anarchy. But later on justice will overtake the last named creature, for there is a place where he will get his desserts; that's hades.

Remedy for Sore Feet.

This is the season of the year when many are complaining of sore feet. It may be corns; it is often rheumatism, and again it is just a soreness of the tisue. Whatever it is, it is disagreeable and often painful. Quite often no remedy will reach the trouble, but some few will find that the following will at least alleviate the trouble in a measure: In the first place wash the feet night and morning. Bathe them at night in water as hot as can be borne. That will rest them and take out the tired feeling. Wear clean hose. Change every day, and if you cannot afford so many changes wash out your stockings at night in a bowl of ammonia water, rinse and hang up to dry. Clean stockings are the first requisite of healthy feet. If you are troubled with corns, keep them pared to the tender skin, and use a mixture of one ounce of collodion, one drachm of sodium, one scruple of extract of cannabis. Paint with this night and morning. On rising wash the feet again in cold water, with ammonia in it. Of course, it goes without saying, that you should be careful to wear comfortable loose shoes and keep them clean and in good order. This treatment may not cure, but it will at least help. But whatever else you do wash your feet twice a day.

—A level headed editor of an exchange penned the following: "My friend, do not speak slightingly of that man with the battered hat and time-worn clothes. He is probably the editor of the home paper, while the man with the silk hat and well brushed clothes who passes him on the other side is the delinquent subscriber. Appearances are misleading."

—A new platform across the race has been put down in front of McCalmont & Co's implement store.

—The rainy season again seems to have struck this community. We have been having thunder storms and showers about every day this week.

—William Grenoble, living north of Zion, shot and killed a large eagle on Wednesday of this week. The bird measured five feet and nine inches from tip to tip of its wings.

—Kyle McFarlane expects to try farming next year. He thinks of moving from Bellefonte to his farm near Fillmore where he expects to make the profits roll in at tilling the soil.

—We are sorry to record the illness of Mr. James Hamilton at his residence on Willowbank street. Mr. Hamilton is now past 90 years of age and his illness is a general breaking down.

—Col. D. S. Keller is reported to be in very poor health at his home, this place. Ever since his return from the south he has been confined to his room. His recovery is considered very doubtful.

—The iron on the High street bridge is now all painted and it improves the appearance of the same one hundred per cent. Now when the new planking is all on the bridge it will present a pretty good appearance.

—Some of Clearfield's young ladies talk of forming an organization, pledging themselves never to marry a man who is not intelligent, honest and industrious, good natured, cleanly in person and apparel, healthy, sober, a church member and a total abstainer from liquor, tobacco and profanity.

—The Young Men's Christian Associations of the State are arranging to have an Association Tent, with reading room, correspondence tables, out-door and in-door games, etc., at the Division Encampment National Guard at Gettysburg, August 10th to 16th. All publishers are invited to send copies of their papers during the Encampment.

—An exchange remarks that the lady bicycle riders are setting an excellent example to the men, who are accustomed to lie down and hold their stomachs as soon as they mount their wheels. The ladies sit upright and seem to enjoy the exercise. The women do a great many things better than men, and they certainly are more graceful riders of the bicycle.

—William Allison, jr., formerly of Jacksonville, died at his son's residence in Johnsonburg Wednesday afternoon, of general debility. He was about 80 years old. In 1865 he was elected associate judge of Centre county. He is survived by three children—R. M., of Johnsonburg, Mrs. George Council, of Altoona, and Mrs. C. F. Leathers, of Howard.

—Mr. W. T. Meyer informs us that the proposed band tournament which is to be held at Hecla park on the 30th of August, promises to be a most successful affair. Already replies have been received from the most of the bands to which invitations were sent and thus far all have signified their intention of being present, and ten of them have entered the contest to take place at that time.

—Outside of the man who stops his paper without paying up arrearges, the meanest man has again bobbed to the surface, and we are pleased to announce that he does'nt live in Centre county, but resides in Germantown, in the eastern part of the state. He sold his son-in-law a half cow and then refused to divide the milk, maintaining that he only sold the front half. The son in-law was required to provide the food the cow consumed and carry water to her three times a day. Recently the cow kicked the old man and now he talks of suing his son-in-law, the owner of the front half, for damages.

SAILED THE SEAS 38 YEARS.

One of His Experiences.

For thirty-eight years Capt. Loud followed the sea, most of that time as master of a vessel, and upon retiring from the water was appointed by the Secretary of the United States Treasury to superintend the seal fisheries in Alaska, which position he held five years. He relates one experience as follows:

"For several years I had been troubled with general nervousness and pain in the region of my heart. My greatest affliction was sleeplessness: it was almost impossible at any time to obtain rest and sleep. Having seen Dr. Miles' remedies advertised I began using Nervine. After taking a small quantity the benefit received was so great that I was positively alarmed, thinking the remedy contained opiates which would finally be injurious to me; but on being assured by the druggist that it was perfectly harmless, I continued it together with the Heart Cure. Today I can conscientiously say that Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and New Heart Cure did more for me than anything I had ever taken. I had been treated by eminent physicians in New York and San Francisco without benefit. I owe my present good health to the judicious use of these most valuable remedies, and heartily recommend them to all afflicted as I was."—Capt. A. P. Loud, Hampden, Me.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and New Cure are sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or by Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5, express prepaid. They are free from all opiates and dangerous drugs.

THEY WERE MUCH PLEASED.

The Excursionists Over the C. R. R. of Pa. Wednesday.

The Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin, in its report of the excursion over the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania on Wednesday, says:

The country through which this railroad runs is rich in its resources, being as it is one of the most substantial farming communities this section of the state can produce. Previous to the building of this road the nearest shipping points were Mill Hall and Bellefonte now the valley's possibilities for the development of its mineral deposits are marked. The scenery along the line is beautiful and is not cut out from view by the banks of deep cuts. The roadbed is smooth and solid, giving the passenger an idea that he is riding over an old established road.

The first stop was made at Clintondale park. Here the party disembarked and spent half an hour beneath the shade of the tall trees in this perfect sylvan retreat. The park is high above the tracks and the improvements now upon it are a pavilion for dancing, 50 by 30 feet, a kitchen containing stove and cooking utensils, and elegant spring water. The most marked feature of the grounds is its perfect cleanings.

General Superintenkent Gephart gathered the party around him under the pavilion, and gave them a talk in which business and nonsense blended in harmony. He explained that though his company was philanthropic in its desire to give those present an outing, it also had an object in view and that was to give them an idea of the pleasure resorts along their line and their ability and facility for handling and accommodating pleasure seekers. These are ample. For a small gathering, say less than 1,000 people, Clintondale Park was the place for a picnic, but for a larger crowd Hecla Park offered better advantages. At the former park the water supply is only sufficient for 1,000 people. He then gave a word sketch of the surrounding country.

AT HECLA PARK.

After having inspected Clintondale Park the party left for Hecla Park, all expressing regret that their time was necessarily so limited. At Hecla Park a surprise was in store for the visitors. They found the place to be between eighteen and twenty acres in extent, the major portion of which is well shaded by trees. The grounds are level, fine crushed limestone walks have been built, a large pavilion for dancing and a large kitchen have been erected. The water supply is ample, a large stream passing through the park. There is a large pool of water formed by the dam of a grist mill. Adjacent to this is an abandoned dam which was formerly used by a saw mill. Both basins will be excavated and two lakes formed which will be used for boating in summer and skating in winter. A rustic pagoda with seats circling around it will be built for band concerts, while a quarter mile bicycle track in the woods is one of the contemplated improvements of the future. There are to be base ball grounds, croquet ground and tennis courts, which will offer the lovers of sport plenty of opportunity to indulge in their favorite amusement. The Central Pennsylvania Railroad Company propose to make these two parks prominent resorts for this section of the state

DINNER AT BELLEFONTE.

The trip to Bellefonte was resumed, the train being taken over the Nittany Valley branch to a position where all could view the ore banks, the Valentine iron works, and look down upon the mountain town. They were then taken into Bellefonte, going down a grade 176 feet to the mile. At the lime kilns the special's passage was barred by a Pennsylvania engine which had jumped the track sat the frog. The party walked to the Bush House where an hour was spent at dinner. The meal was an excellent one, in keeping with this well known hostelry, and was highly enjoyed by the excursionists.

The return trip was started at 1 o'clock and the party arrived home at 3.30. At Jersey Shore General Superintendent Gephart left the train, after having been tendered—together with the other representatives—a vote of thanks from their guests for the courtesies extended.

Man is a Funny Animal.

Man is a queer creature. He spends the best years of his life trying to get passes on the railways, and when he gets them they have cost him more than the railroad fare would have been, five times over. He spends a good deal of his time making a home for himself, and when he has made it he spends more time inventing excuses to keep away from it. He will raise a great row at home if he is given a spoon that has been used by one of the children since it has been washed, and then he will go to a free lunch counter and shovel sauer kraut into his mouth with an iron fork that has been used by guzzlers of all nationalities. He tells his children that it is foolish to go to the circus and then stands at the railway depot for two hours to see the elephant unloaded. He is a funny animal, but we can't help liking him.

In Jail.

On Monday several additions were made to the list in the jail. For some time there has been a gang of thieves operating in Penn township in the vicinity of Coburn. Freight cars were frequently robbed and several lumber camps were looted. On Monday And. Weaver, Jonas Auman and John Mullen were put in jail on charges preferred against them by Jacob Whitmer and Andrew Gentzel for larceny. Weaver and Auman are the same persons who figured prominently in the Weaver murder trial several years ago.

At present Sheriff Condo has eighteen prisoners to care for—almost a full house.

Echoes From Pine.

The Bible conference of the Central Pennsylvania Evangelical conference district began at Pine camp ground Wednesday. The introduction to these services was a song service conducted by Rev. E. B. Bailey, followed by a pentecostal service led by Rev. N. Young.

A temporary organization was effected by the election of Prof. Gobble, as president, A. Stapleton, secretary, and D. M. Metzger, treasurer.

Dr. Hartzler, teacher in Mr. Moody's Bible school at Northfield, was then introduced as the chancellor of the conference. He delivered a masterly address on the importance of Bible study, showing in most appropriate language the fruits of it, and paying a high compliment to the word itself.

At 2 p. m. Rev. G. W. Currin conducted another pentecostal service, which was followed by Rev. J. Berg Esenwein, of Harrisburg, with a brilliant lecture on Bible marking.

Prof. A. E. Gobble, president of the Central Pennsylvania college, then gave a well prepared and thoroughly digested talk on the study of the New Testament in chronologicel order. The professor knows his lesson and knows how to tell it so that the people can understand it.

The day's work concluded with an illustrated lecture on "The Life of Christ" by Evangelist I. N. Earle, of Philadelphia.

The people were thrilled all day long with the flashes of eloquence that fairly illuminated the tabernacle, as it rolled from the lips of the Gamaliels on the platform.

The Logan Picnic Next Week.

On Thursday, the 9th inst, the Logan steam fire engine company of this place will picnic at Hecla park, on the line of the new Central rail-road of Penna. The posters have been up for some time announcing the many attractive features that the firemen have arranged for the entertainment of those who attend. The program will be exactly as advertised, nothing will be curtailed that will lend to the pleasure of the day.

The rail-road has made exceptionally low rates, so that all persons living along the line can attend. Is is the especial desire of the Logans that those who want to make a family picnic of it should do so, for while they will have refreshments of all kinds for sale, yet those persons who want to go and take baskets will be perfectly welcome. The idea is to have a big crowd. The more the merrier and the entertainment will be provided cheerfully, whether you spend a cent or not.

Dancing, of course, will be one of the principal modes of amusement and to make it enjoyable a large covered pavillion has been built. There an orchestra of ten pieces will play all day long for those who care to dance.

The day will be an enjoyable one and you should not miss it.

Summer Pleasure Tour to Niagara Falls via Pennsylvania Railroad.

On August 9th another of the Pennsylvania Railroad's noted personally conducted pleasure tours to Niagara Falls will be run.

Special train of Pullman parlor cars and day coaches will leave Washington 7.00 A. M., York 10.10 A. M., Harrisburg 11;35 A. M., Sunbury 1.05 P. M. Williamsport 2.40 P. M., stopping at principal intermediate points.

Excursion tickets, valid for return passage within ten days, will be sold for train leaving Bellefonte at 9.33 a. m., connecting with special train, at rate of $7.35.

Tickets will permit of stop-off at Watkins and Rochester, in either direction, within limit.

Bigler Campmeeting.

The annual Campmeeting will be held on the grounds of this Association, at Bigler, beginning August 17th and continuing for ten days. The management expect a successful meeting, and with good weather the attendance should be larger than in former years. Persons wishing to secure tents will please correspond with John A. Woolridge, Woodland, Pa., who will have charge of this department. There will be several prominent ministers present to assist in the work, and the season of '94 promises to be a much better one than any heretofore held. The grounds are nicely located and convenient to both lines of railways. Posters, giving particulars, will be printed in a few days.

A CHILD BADLY HURT.

A child of Mr. Joel Barnard, living near Zion, was very seriously injured by being caught in the tumbling shaft of a threshing machine. The child, which was about four years old, was standing near the machine while in motion when its clothes were caught and the child was drawn under the shaft and whirled until its face was most terrible burned. The flesh was torn from its arms and body. The child's recovery is doubtful.

—On last Sunday Mrs. Lucy Twitmeyer had a paralytic stroke and is lying in a critical condition at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Samuel Decker, at Zion.

Star Ramblings for August.

W. W. A. in the Johnstown Tribune writes: About the 10th of August the usual meteoric display occurs. The best hour for observation is near midnight, the radiant point of the meteors being in the constellation of Perseus, which, at that hour, is in the northeast, about half way from the zenith to the horizon. These meteors are yellow, with silvery trains; they have been named "The Tears of St. Lawrence," in memory of the martyred saint, whose birth occurred August 10, 258 A. D. Their general name is Persids, and they compose a zone or belt of meteor, the debris of the comet of 1862, whose nearest point rests upon the earth's orbit, and whose farthest boundary line is far beyond the path of distant Neptune. When the earth plows her way through these meteors, the concussion sets them on fire, and their descent from the heavens form a brilliant spectacle most pleasing to the eye.

Every reader knows where to look for the Great Dipper (now in the northwest in the early evening), with its four stars making the handle. Of these three in the handle, one is a double star, named by the Arabs the "Horse and Rider." It is considered a good test of eyesight to distinguish it without a glass, and we leave the reader to find it unaided. These two stars perform a revolution about each other once in fifty-eight years. Prolonging the handle of the dipper on the south, we meet a bright, red-tinted star, named Arcturus. Going a little farther south, we find two bright stars, one a little northwest of the other; the western one has a dull appearance and no twinkling. This is the planet Saturn; the other star, a gem in the western heaven, is Spica.

Overhead, early in the evening, we have the beautiful silver star Vega, which was once our North star; near it, in the Milky Way, the five stars forming the outlines of a large cross, and the constellation Swan. Also, not far off, is a circle of brilliant stars called the Northern Crown, with its bright twinkler, named Alphacca. With a good glass, the August heavens, on a clear moonlight night, are rich in starry treasures, and one can never tire in continued search

Death of Annie Bottorf.

For the last year Miss Annie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Bottorf, of Lemont, had been a victim of consumption. Up until several months ago she was able to be about. Last winter one evening she and her sister were coming from singing convention held at Boalsburg. Along the way they met two drunk men in a buggy who ran into them, throwing both the young ladies out. Since that time the young lady continued to grow worse and suffered great pain. Tuesday morning at 2 o'clock, the angel of death came and she passed quietly away. She was about 23 years of age and will be greatly missed by her large circle of friends. She had a kind and loving disposition which drew around her many friends. The deceased was a sister of Mrs. John Waite and Mrs. John Olewine, of Bellefonte, both of whom were at her bedside when she died. The funeral took place Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment at Shiloh.

What He Is.

The editor of a local paper is the most thoroughly criticised individual of any community. To escape criticism he would have to be a member of all churches and of none; a worker in all political parties and in none; a prohibitionist and a drunkard at the same time; a married man and a single man all in one; a philanthropist and a miser at once; a saint and a sinner; a genius and a fool, a hypocrite, a backbiter a liar, a rascal and the opposite of each. We don't fill the bill, and the fellow who would try to has our sympathy.

A Cure for Sunburn.

If you have been badly sunburned just as soon as you can procure it apply to the burned parts a thick coat of vaseline, which let remain for ten minutes or more, then rub it off by applying a soft, dry cloth gently; have a bowl of very hot water brought to you and a big linen towel. Dip the towel in the water, which must be hot enough to steam, and almost burn your face in it, but do not touch the skin with it for some time; you should steam your face this way for fifteen minutes, and by that time every drop of blood in your body will seem to be in your face. Then call for more hot water, and apply it in a slow, gentle fashion for fifteen minutes. Then put on a coat of vaseline and lie down for an hour. When you get up you will be fresh as a daisy, and your face will not trouble you in the least. Of course the length of time for treatment will depend upon how badly you are burned. But an hour ought to fix you up all right. Apply vaseline again on retiring.

White Lead as a Preventive.

From the English Mechanic; The advantages of using genuine white lead for painting services, especially iron work, have been known for years, but an instance mentioned by Sir William Arrol will serve to impress the fact on the memory. Some years ago he purchased the materials of old Hammersmith bridge for the purpose of using a portion in erecting a temporary plant at one of his large undertakings. The iron work had been in position sixty-two years, and many of the parts, owing to inaccessibility, had not been painted since they were placed in position. Finding them in so remarkable a state of preservation Sir William Arrol had some of the paint analyzed, when it was found to be genuine white lead.

Beech Creek Connection.

The Beech Creek, Altoona and Southwestern railroad company was chartered at the state department Wednesday. The line, forty miles long, begins at Walkers, Cambria county, and runs southwest via Altoona and Hollidaysburg to Ore Hill, Blair county, connecting there with the Altoona Short Line railroad. The capital is $1,000,000.

—Our authority for the following is the Clearfield Journal: "A man died near Madera recently, and the neighbors called to offer condolence. One old lady began by saying: 'You have met with a great loss—' 'That's so,' exclaimed the bereaved widow,' but it 's the first night I have known where he was in twenty years.'"

GOLDEN HOURS

PROSPECTUS FOR 1894.

Since the first number of GOLDEN HOURS was issued it has been conceded by juvenile readers to be the best young people's paper in the world. Although gratified beyond expression by the hearty appreciation with which his efforts to please have been met, the proprietor shall in future strive to obtain still more hearty encomiums, and shall continue to give to the youth of America a paper that will be both instructive and entertaining, and a welcome weekly visitor to every household in the land.

In circulation, the quality of serials and short stories published, artistic illustrations and neat typographical appearance, GOLDEN HOURS is far ahead of its competitors. It has imitators by the score, which is an evidence of its popularity, but it has no equals.

On the staff of contributors to GOLDEN HOURS are such well-known writers of young people's stories as

Weldon J. Cobb,	Matt Royal,
Harriet Irving Hancock,	"Scripture,"
Cornelius Shea,	Fred Thorpe,
Wm. G. Patten,	George W. Browne,
Burt R. Braddock,	T. C. Harbaugh,
S. D. A. Cox,	Ad. H. Gibson,
Walter F. Burns,	Arthur C. Grissom,

and others of world-wide reputation, who contribute regularly to its columns.

EDWARD T. TUTEN.

Local Department.

—What delightful weather we are now having. Days not too warm and nights deliciously cool—just the right kind for sleeping.

—We are sorry to record the fact that Col. D. S. Keller is sinking slowly, but surely, and his death seems to be only a question of hours now.

—There will be no service, except Sunday-school, in the Episcopal church for two weeks, owing to the absence of Rev. Wright on his summer vacation.

—It is not known whether there will be a new loan to replenish the gold in the Treasury. Either way, though, Uncle Sam's word is as good as his bond.

—While assisting to slaughter beeves at Stover's butcher shop this morning about five o'clock Hiram Feteroff was badly gored in the leg by a fractious steer. The doctor had to put in seven stitches to fix up the wound.

—Owing to Prof. Johnstonbaugh's resignation as principal of the High School, Prof. Armmerman has been elected to that position with Miss Levy and Prof. Rutt as his assistants. Mr. Roy Mattern will teach Miss Levy's school.

—Gregg Post will not attend the National encampment in a body, but only as a delegation. They will depart for Pittsburg September 6th. All the Centre county soldier boys will be quartered at the 19th ward school house, East Liberty.

—Monday afternoon Holly Steele, son of Theodore Steele, of Axe Mann, while riding a horse to water fell off and broke his arm. Dr. Hoy was sent for and rendered the necessary surgical assistance, and the boy is getting along all right at this writing, —Mr. Samuel Noll, father of our townsman, Mr. John Noll, died Tuesday evening at his home near Pleasant Gap, at the advanced age of 87 years. He was ill but a brief time. He leaves a wife and large family of children, all grown up, to mourn their loss.

—Mrs. J. Kyle McFarlone has a large-night blooming cereus on which there are a number of buds which will bloom tonight, and any person who would like to see this wonderful night-blooming plant is cordially invited to call and see it. The cereus is a wonderful flower and just as beautiful as it is wonderful.

—Tuesday evening Mrs. L. T. Munson was hostess to a party of upwards of seventy young people who went over the Central railroad to Clintondale park and enjoy a good dance in the pavillion at that place. The party went down at 3.45 and returned at 10.52. Meyers' orchestra furnished the music for the occasion.

—It is said that dancing makes a girl's feet large. It is said also that ice cream produces freckles. Doctors are of the opinion that hanging on the front gate produces rheumatism. The chewing of gum distorts the mouth. Playing on the piano destroys the hand, and washing dishes causes chaps—to come and propose.

—The surviving members of the Seventh Penna. Cavaley will hold their annual reunion in Lock Haven in October. This regiment was one of the largest in the volunteer service, and served from Nov. 1, 1861, to August 1, 1865. During that time 106 were killed in action, nine of them being officers. Deaths from disease numbering 190, five of whom were officers.

—Thursday is the day for the Logan's picnic. The boys have been around soliciting edibles for the dinner and the people of Bellefonte should give as liberally as possible. The Logan boys are always prompt to respond in case of fire and when their help is needed, and now when they are endeavoring to raise money to complete their payment on their handsome new steamer, they should be given liberal encouragement, and a good patronage at their picnic. There is no doubt but that they will give to all who attend a most enjoyable time.

COUNCIL MEETING.

What Was Done in Borough Affairs Monday Night.

It was just 8 o'clock Monday evening when the president called council to order with members Miller, Williams, Hillibish, Brockerhoff, Bush and Garman present. Clerk Isaac Mitchell read the minutes of previous meeting which were approved as read.

Dr. T. R. Hayes was present and asked a rebate on water tax because of being absent from town four months in the year.

Clement Dale, Esq., on behalf of the trustees of the Lutheran church, asked for a grade by the Lutheran church in order to put down a stone gutter. The street committee was instructed to give grade.

Frank P. Blair was present to make complaint in regard to tax for water motor, which was this year raised from two to five dollars per year.

A communication was received from the Pennsylvania railroad company asking council to join with them in the paving of High street, by the railroad, with vitrified brick,

The Street committee reported repairs on High street bridge apout completed, and progress all around.

The Water committee reported a number of leaks repaired; also repairs made to boiler at water works. The committee also reported water contracts now being made with persons using water for mechanical purposes, and in most instances the contracts have been signed.

The Market committee reported $15.10 market fees collected. The Finance committee reported balance due treasurer of $8,141·15.

The attention of the Street committee was called to the dangerous condition of the boardwalk on Lamb street by the Episcopal church; also the boardwalk on Howard street in front of Governor Curtin's property.

McCalmont & Co., having been assessed twenty dollars for the use of water for mechanical purposes, Mr. Shortlidge was present to enter protest against the amount, alleging that they did not use the amount of water that should warrant that high a tax. He would be willing to pay ten dollars per year. The water committee presented their report of the contracts made out, and the same was confirmed by council, and from all parties refusing to sign the contracts the water will be turned off.

Dr. Hayes' request for a rebate on water tax was referred to the finance committee.

With the approval of the following bills council adjourned:

The Value of Salt.

Comparatively few people know how useful ordinary salt is. For weak eyes there is nothing better than salt and water applied night and morning. A cloth wrung out in strong salt and water and bound around the neck when going to bed is an effective remedy for sore throats. One of the safest emetics is a teaspoonful of salt dissolved in a tumbler of cold water, with a teaspoonful of salt dissolved therein, relieves heartburn. Salt, used as a dentifrice preserves the teeth and keeps them clean, strengthens the gums and purifies the breath. A strong solution of salt and water applied regularly to the head prevents the hair from falling out. A bag filled with very hot salt and applied to parts affected by neuralgia gives great relief. Damp salt applied to stings and bites of insects is a cure of the pain. Discolorations may be removed by rubbing in salt. Ink stains may be removed if salt is immediately applied, and a carpet may be thoroughly cleaned by strewing over it, before brushing, salt that had been well dried in the oven.

The Central R. R's Excursion.

The Central Railroad's excursion to Atlantic City August 23rd, will prove one of the most attractive excursions that has ever been given from Bellefonte. One of their new and comfortable chair coaches fitted up with many of the conveniences of Pullman Parlor cars will be run through to Philadelphia to avoid transfers enroute. Passengers are permitted to stop over at Philadelphia going and also on the return trip; tickets being good for 15 days or until Sept. 7th. The Central people had about given up the idea of an Atlantic City excursion this year but the importunities of so many of our citizens to give them an opportunity of showing their appreciation of what this popular line has already directly done for Bellefonte caused them to reconsider the matter. The party will leave here Thursday morning August 23rd by special train to Williamsport at which point connection is made with the Philadelphia & Reading Cannon Ball train at 10.10 a. m. Full information upon the subject will be given out officially in due season.

Rolled Over the Ties.

David Kinley, of Lock Haven, is employed as brakeman on the Lewisburg and Tyrone railroad. Saturday while riding on a car at Coburn Station, preparatory to making a coupling, he lost his balance, fell on the track below, and was rolled over the ties by the brake rigging. When the car stopped, his head was between his legs. He was taken from under the car and a physician summoned, who found that while badly bruised were no bones broken. He was taken to his home East Main street that city Saturday evening.

The Bellefonte Central R. R. to be Extended to Pine Grove.

Some time ago we made mention of the fact that an effort was being made by the citizens of that locality to have the Bellefonte Central railroad extended from State College to Pine Grove Mills. The railroad company made a most liberal offer to the citizens, which was accepted, and an effort at once put forth to carry the project to a successful completion. So successful were they that last week work was begun on the grading of the roadbed, and quite a number of men are at work along the line.

The extension, when completed will be about seven miles in length, and will tap a section of country in which the advantages of a railroad have never been known. But it will prove an advantage and a benefit to the people throughout all that community which they cannot fail to fully appreciate. Instead of being compelled to travel a long distance to reach a railway station, they will have one right at their door; they can ship their produce and receive their freight without being compelled to haul the same six or seven miles by wagon over rough roads. These are some of the advantages to be derived.

And not alone will the road be a benefit to that community, but it will also be an advantage to Bellefonte. Heretofore the drift of travel from Pine Grove and vicinity was towards Tyrone. With a railroad to that point from this place it will necessarily be towards Bellefonte. And the shipping of freight matter will also be through this place. It is expected that the road extension will be completed before winter sets in.

A Good Show.

Welsh Bros.' circus will give an entertainment in Bellefonte on the 9th and 10th of August, commencing Thursday. In speaking of the circus the Dispatch, of Hamburg, Pa., says:

Welsh Bros' Big City shows opened a 2 days' engagement here yesterday and played to good business. The performances are first-class in every particular and of the first quality among the most notable acts are Frank and Ida McCormick, the Royal Court novelty entertainers and introducing sensational and electrifying gun manipulators. The Delsabo in thrilling trapeze exhibitions. Buckskin Lew and performing bear. Prof. Harry Mohn's Great Dog Circus, in addition will be found a corps of skilled gymnasts, acrobats, wire walkers, funny clowns, etc. The attaches and employees connected with the show are very gentlemanly and courteous and the show in its entirety is a clean and wholesome one.

The Veteran Club's Picnic.

The Executive Committee of the Veteran Club of Centre County met in Gregg Post rooms on Saturday morning, August 4th.

In the absence of the regular officers, Andrew Gregg, Esq., presided and W. H. Musser acted as secretary. It was on motion decided to hold the annual reunion at Hunter's Park, on Saturday, September 1st. The following committees were appointed: On transportation, Comrades James A. Beaver, Samuel H. Williams, J. I. Curtin and J. I. Condo. To procure speakers and music, Comrades W. H. Musser, John C. Miller and M. F. Riddle. Comrade S. H. Williams was appointed to prepare resolutions to be presented at the annual meeting concerning the erection of a monument to Centre county soldiers.

On motion adjourned.

W. H. Musser, Secretary.

—Walter Gray, who has been rusticating over in Half Moon valley for about a week, says the Philipsburg Ledger, came home yesterday and reports crops good, the telephone line completed; Irv Gray's new track nearly finished; Seibring's trotting stock all out in pasture; about twenty pretty girls at a marriageable age; Scotia mines working part time; Frank Clemson's babies the finest on earth; Sam T. Gray's daughters the best cooks in that end of the valley, John Hunter's pipe still going; Port Burket's pair of matched bays good enough for anybody. Cy Hunter a poor fighter; the base ball team flourishing; the swimming hole still there and the roads rougher than ever.

—Clinton county, being one of the three counties composing this Senatorial district, is putting forth their claims as to being this year entitled to be given the nominee for that office. It is quite true that Centre and Clearfield counties have had the representatives in the Senate for some time, but that is no good argument why they should give up everything to Clinton. It remains to be seen which county can present the best and most eligible candidate or candidates, and let the choice be made on the popularity of the men, not their location in the district.

FOR SCHOOL TEACHERS.

An Opportunity to Win Cash Prizes.

The Pennsylvania forestry association, with office at 1012 Walnut street, Philadelphia, offers to the school teachers in the public schools of this state prizes of fifty dollars for the best and twenty-five dollars for the second best essay upon "The Practical Value of Forest to the Surface of the Country." The conditions under which the prizes are to be awarded are:

Each essay must be presented at a county teachers' institute, or (in cities where institutes are not held) at an organized assemblage of teachers, and the merit of the same passed upon in such a manner as the institute or other organization decides.

The county or city superintendent is requested to forward to the Pennsylvania forestry association as soon as possible a list of those who contributed essays, giving names, addresses and schools with which the writers are connected; and also the two essays which have been endorsed as specially meritorious or recommended for competition for the prizes.

A committee will be selected by the council of the Pennsylvania forestry association to pass upon the essay received from the various county and city superintendents, who will decide which of these is entitled to the first prize of fifty dollars and which to the second prize of twenty-five dollars.

The competition will be open to all essays presented as above indicated which are received by the secretary of the Pennsylvania forestry association on or before March 31st, 1895. It is intended that, as far as it may be practicable, all persons who have been, are, or shall be teaching in the public schools of Pennsylvania between April 1st, 1894, and April 1, 1895, may become contestants.

It is expected that the names of each essayist and as far as possible excerpts from essays will be printed in Forest Leaves, the organ of the Pennsylvania forestry association, and the essays winning the prizes will also be published in Forest Leaves, but no restrictions upon publication of essays in local papers are made.

The sole desire of the association is to encourage the study of an interest in tree growth, and none should be deterred from entering into the contest because of modesty or diffidence. The purpose has been to open the subject to all in the broadest manner possible. A concise, well through out essay will be apt to win a prize for its practical features as a composition of greater length, abounding in elaborate phraseology or presenting rhetorical perfection.

Teachers everywhere in the state are requested to enter the contest. The subject is a practical one, and, by keeping their eyes open during the summer vacation, teachers will find innumerable facts on every hand bearing thereon, which "he who runs may read" and write about.

The Patrons' Picnic.

The 21st Annual Encampment and Exhipition will be held at Grange Park, Centre Hall, Sept. 17th to 22d inclusive. The encampment will open Saturday, the 15th. Religious services on Sunday, the 16th, and on Monday, the 17th, the exhibition proper will begin.

Arrangements have been made for the erection of 250 tents for the accommodation of the people, which will be rented to campers at a nominal price.

Ample provisions are being made for a large exhibition of agricultural implements live stock and poultry.

Daily meetings will be held in the large auditorium. Addresses will be delivered by the leading farmers and statesmen, and interesting entertainments will be held in the auditorium every night.

Admission to the grounds, absolutely free.

For information as to tent accommodations, exhibition privilege, hotels, boarding, lodging and other privileges, address.

THREE DEATHS.

A Trio of Centre County People Pass Away.

On Monday night, about eleven o'clock Mr. Philip Resides, of near Fillmore, passed from this world of mortality into the great beyond, at the advanced age of 88 years. Mr. Resides has been in feeble health for sometime, owing to his advanced age and a general breaking down, and his death has been daily expected. He was a good citizen and a kind neighbor and his death will be mourned by a large circle of friends. He is survived by nine children, as follows: Charles, of Osceola; John, of Sandy Ridge; William, of Bellefonte; Henry, on the homestead near Fillmore: Mrs. Samuel Barr, of Bellefonte; Mrs. Wm. Sellers, of Oak Hall; and Mrs. Treaster, Mrs. Sowers and Mrs. Stone, of near Filmore. The funeral took place Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock, interment being made in the Union cemetery in this place.

Mount Gretna.

The Mt. Gretna farmers incampment an Industrial exhibition of Mt. Gretna, Lebanon County, Pa., will commence on Aug. 20th and continue to the 25th, 1894. Mt. Gretna is a picturesque place; and one of the most attractive places in Central Penna. It is located on the Cornwall & Lebanon R. R. and has all the advantages that can be desired for an exhibition and a summer outing. The Chautauqua Society have built over one hundred cottages there and rooms can be rented at a very low figure; and boarding is furnished for $1.00 a day and less at the resturants established to entertain those who attend the exhibition. The Penna, R. R. will issue excursion tickets via Lewisburg $4.64 via Lock Haven $5.10; via Tyrone $5.30, being one fare for the round trip. All persons interested in Agricultural and industrial progress, should avail themselves of this rare opportunity and attend the coming Mt. Gretna meeting.

Killed the Fish.

One day a couple weeks ago, says the Tyrone Herald, some parties by the use of some kind of explosives are supposed to have had a good bit of sport blowing up shoals of fish, big and little, along Laurel run in Snyder township above Vail station. The small dead fish could be seen floating down the little stream in large numbers but the large ones it is supposed were gathered in by the parties using the explosives. So far as our information goes it is not positively known who the miscreants are but an officer having the matter in charge feels confident of making a success of the little bit of detective work he is just now performing concerning the matter.

Bellefonte Aids Mill Hall.

The citizens of Bellefonte have been generous in their responses to Mill Hall's appeal for aid. Mr. I. T. Humbler, a member of the Borough Council, spent two days in the city of Bellefonte soliciting cash donation, and received in all $118.

Furst, $10; Edward Rhoads, $5; J. C. Meyer, $2.50; D. Garman, $5.00; C. J. Cook, $1.00; J G. Love $5.00; S. D. Ray, $1.00; Orvis, Bower & Orvis, $10,00; —Reeder, $2.50.

Satisfactory Performance.

The performances as given at the Welsh brothers' show in this city yesterday greatly pleased all who witnessed them. The difficult feats of the bar experts, equilibrists, jugglers, wire walkers, club swingers, wrestling bears and the gymnasts were all of a thrilling and exciting character. The antics of the educated dogs called forth surprising remarks from many and the clowns in their humorous sayings delighted the little folks. It is a good show. The show will exhibit this afternoon and this evening.—Tuesday's Lock Haven Democrat. This show will exhibit in Bellefonte to-morrow and Friday.
